To Kelly,

To my best friend, I sure am glad that we have been friends for such a long time. We have done a lot of things together, remember our junior class trip. The football games, Scott's parties. And our wild year at C.P. We have to make our senior year, the best year ever. I hope that we can get an apartment together, I will be so much fun, and if we don't I hope that we will always stay in touch. I wish you the best of luck in the rest of your life. Stay crazy.

Love

Board Member Charles Goldfarb Retires Still Loyal To Perkins

Thank you. These two words cannot begin to express how much Charles Goldfarb has done for Perkins Schools. For the past eight years, Mr. Goldfarb has loyally served on the Perkins Board of Education. He went above and beyond his duties as a school board member through his concern for the students. Mr. Goldfarb's concern was shown by his presence at most, if not all, scholastic and athletic events. Through his presence at the state marching band competition and the state cross country meet which were both held in Columbus, he proved to be Perkins' most loyal fan.

"I'll never lose my fondness for you (the students)," expresses his love for people.

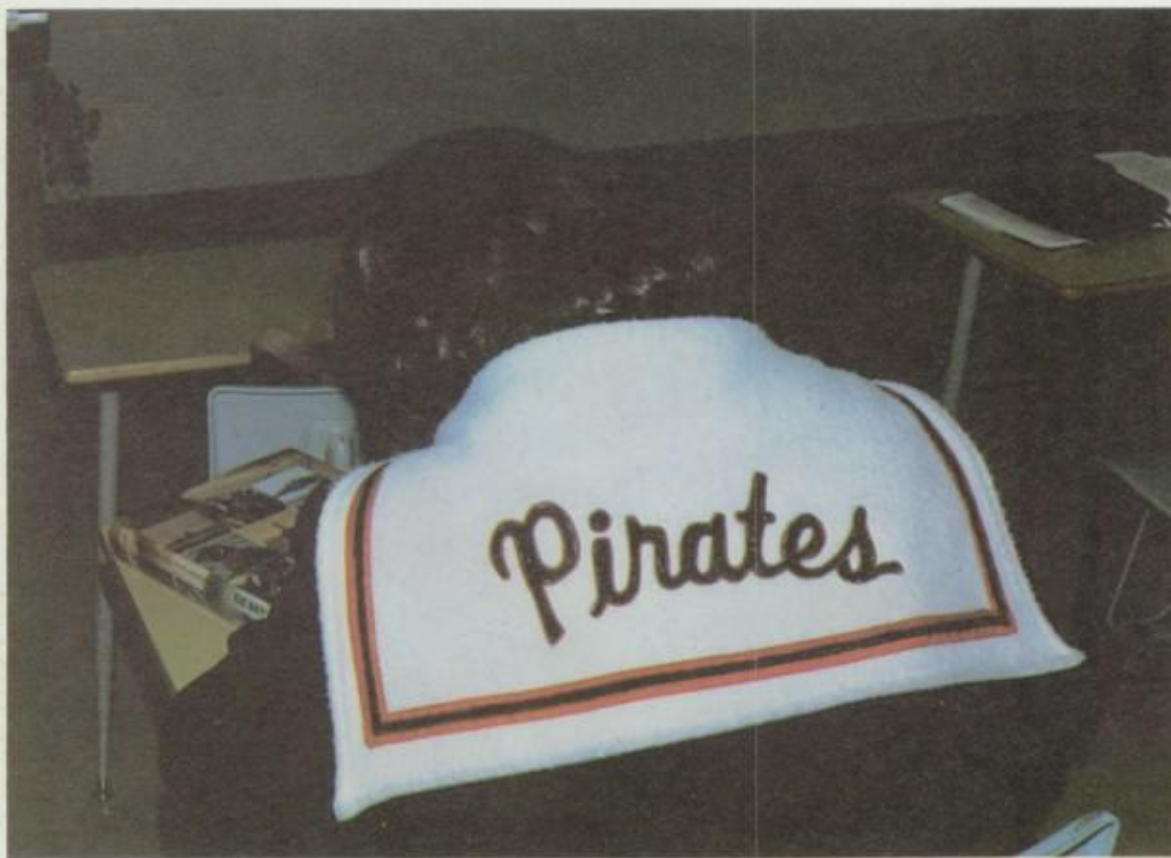

Mr. Goldfarb and his wife, Jean, have been married for 35 years. They have raised three children, all of whom attended Perkins. Even though his children have graduated, Mr. Goldfarb has continued to support Perkins Schools.

The yearbook staff proudly dedicates the 1982 Quadrant to Ohio's newest honorary school board member, Mr. Charles Goldfarb.

Join With 'Pirates of Old' Search For Treasured Memories

marks the spot in the search for the "Pirates' Treasure". Like the pirates of long ago, be prepared to hunt for the treasures. The pathways may not always be straight and clear, but the courageous and brave pirates always fulfill their goals. They should prepare for lonely night watches and tiring days filled with reaching, working and striving.

But take warning! Curses may guard the treasures of silver and gold, but only in the Quadrant are those intangibles, fleeting moments, captured in time and space forever.

Around the high school are found Treasured Places, Treasured Faces, Treasured Spaces and many Treasured Times.

The Quadrant is all of these and more. Through the pictures and words, which have been carefully selected, it is the yearbook staff's goal to preserve the history of this school in such a way that the time spent at Perkins High will not be forgotten. What better treasure than a book of memories!

Well, "ready the anchor", "hoist the sail" and "bon voyage"!

Victory Completes Homecoming Panorama

he tiara, red velvet cape, tunes of the '50's, a victory over the Streaks of Fremont St. Joe and the presentation of the game ball at the dance completed the panorama of the 1981 Homecoming.

The coronation was held Wednesday afternoon. Tension mounted among the crowd as the time drew nearer to the announcement of the 1981 Homecoming queen. Then the big moment arrived, and Beth Stockdale was crowned to preside over the festivities.

Tunes of the '50's rang out across the fairgrounds with such sounds as "Splish-Splash", which was the title of the juniors' winning float, and "Leader of the Pack", the seniors' float, which was the runner-up.

The floats, which were lead by the Pirate Marching Band, then paraded to the stadium. Other highlights of the parade included the bus drivers' "Purple People Eater" and the return of the 1980 Homecoming queen, Lisa Esposito.

The football game against the Fremont St. Joe Crimson Streaks ended in a 21-6 victory for the Pirates. Featured at the pre-game show was the introduction of the Homecoming Court escorted by their fathers. Also several cheerleaders from recent years returned to cheer the team on to victory. Among those returning were: Sandy Holkenborg, Wendy Smith, Lisa Esposito, Linda Eversole, Carol Fogle, Cheryl Linden, Bonnie Dwelle, Jackie Lichtle, Chris Brownell, Chris Blakely, Pam Lynn and Heidi Esposito.

The Homecoming festivities were concluded with the annual dance which, for the first time, was a more informal occasion. The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the game ball to the queen, Beth Stockdale, by the co-captains of the football team, John Fox and Jim Dishman.

Leading the parade, the Perkins Pirate Marching Band keeps step with the help of their hard-working percussion section.

The spirit hoop held by Jenny Hodge and Shellie Dehn rustles in anticipation of the introduction of the Pirate starting line-up.

While braving the chilling wind, Homecoming queen Beth Stockdale and her father, Robert Stockdale, stand at the sidelines watching the game.

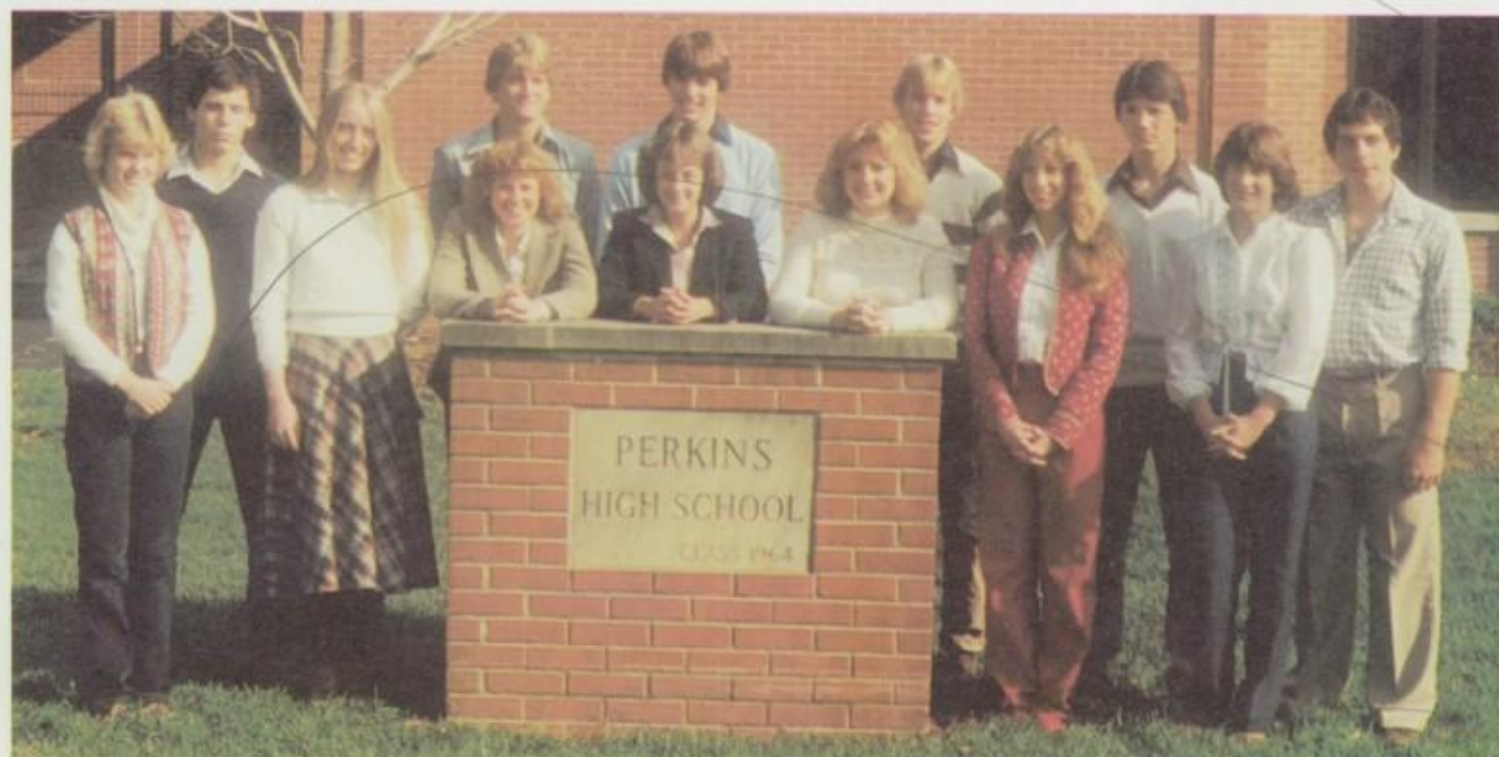

(Opposite) The Homecoming dance began with a bang as Tim Marzec, Marcy Speer, Rich Schuster, Val Barone and Steve Stockdale parade in through the door.

With a burst of speed, co-captain Jim Dishman breaks the hoop setting off a wave of spirit to last throughout the victorious night.

Although the seniors' float "St. Joe Fell for the Leader of the Pack" placed second overall, its title summed up the outcome of the game.

'God's Favorite' Comes To PHS

od's Favorite", which was selected as this year's fall play, is one of Neil Simon's lesser known comedies. The comedy is based on the Biblical story of Job, whose counterpart in this play is Joe Benjamin, portrayed by Barry Arndt. Similiar to Job, Joe has a prodigal son, too, known in the play as David, the drunk. This character was played by Randy Westgate.

The comedy centers around Joe's encounter with a Mr. Sidney Lipton (portrayed by Matt Buderer), who claims to be a messenger from God. When Sidney warns Joe to renounce God or suffer the consequences, Joe soon learns a lesson because of his refusal.

The supporting cast consisted of Joe's wife, the simple-minded Rose Benjamin (played by Traci Schuessler), the repetitious twins, Sarah and Ben (Katherine Lucal and Chad Royal), and the obnoxious maid and stately butler (Suzanne White and Donald Fischer).

The play was held in the high school auditorium on November 20 and 21. "God's Favorite" was directed by Mrs. Vicki Van Ness. She was assisted by student director, Tina Brady, who said, "All in all, I feel the play was a success."

Ben (Chad Royal), Sarah (Katherine Lucal) and Rose (Traci Schuessler) all find Sidney's stories unbelievable.

Joe's drunken son, David, (Randy Westgate) cannot believe what his father (Barry Arndt) is telling him.

Joe (Barry Arndt) tries to make everyone believe Sidney Lipton is just an ordinary man while Morris (Donald Fischer) is expressionless.

Rose (Traci Schuessler) throws out her arms in true belief as Joe (Barry Arndt) smiles in relief.

Morris (Donald Fischer), Mady (Suzanne White) and Ben (Chad Royal) watch attentively to what is happening near them.

God's messenger (Matt Buderer) sits smugly by as Joe (Barry Arndt) throws up his hands in agony.

In a huddle, the Benjamin household tries to determine if Joe Benjamin has gone over the edge.

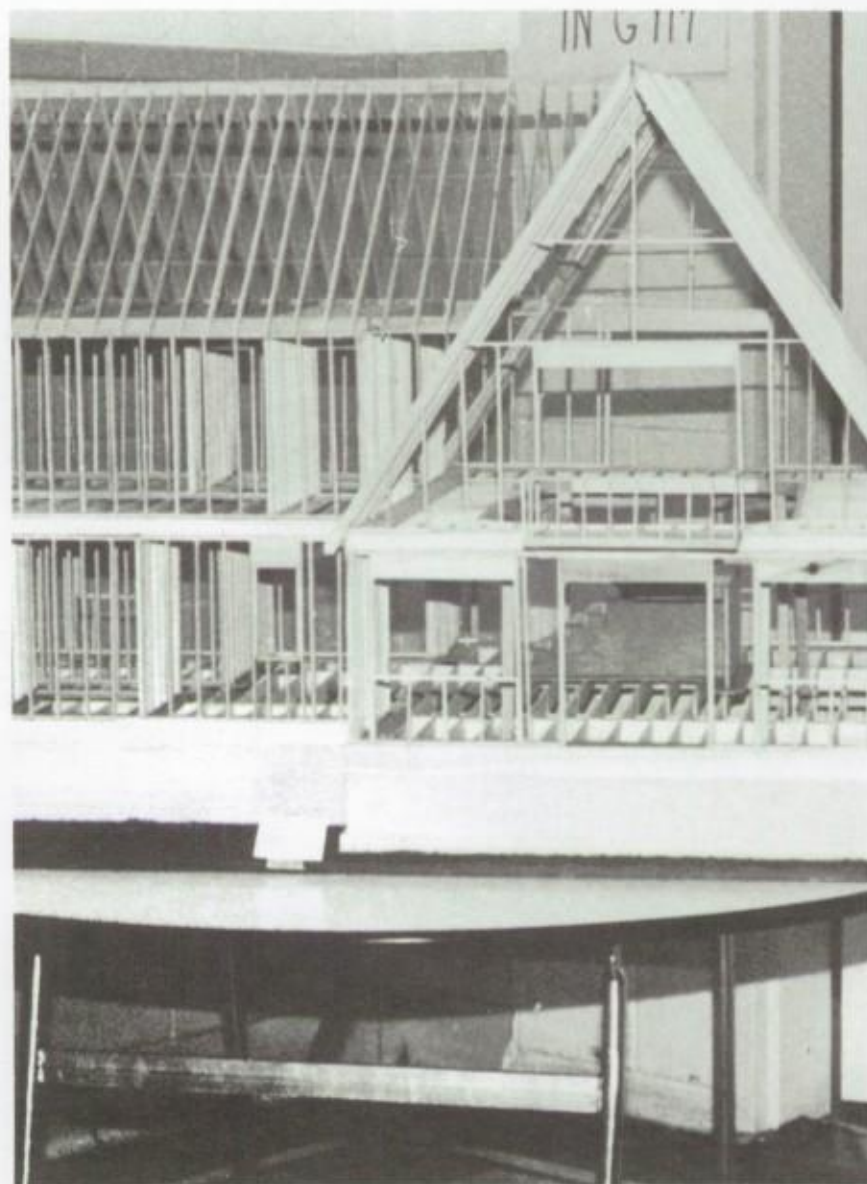

Festival shows variety, quality

The ninth annual Fine Arts Festival was held throughout the high school complex on May 2. This festival allows students and teachers from grades five to twelve to present their accomplishments from the school year. Students from the areas of art, music, home economics and industrial arts were all given the opportunity to display their talents.

During the music festival portion of this year's festival, the three music directors; Mr. Dennis Lavy, Mr. Martin Lydecker and Mr. Thomas O'Shaughnessy were all given the chance to solo on their respective instruments. The high school orchestra performed all during the day at the art exhibits.

"The Fine Art's Festival was the best show that we've had in a long time. There was a good variety of media technique and good quality of student work," stated art teacher Miss Schuman.

Craig Eddy and Scott Galloway's Model home was part of the industrial arts display.

Tracy Doster and Anthony Gowdy examine the taxidermy display closely.

The Wind Ensemble, under the direction of Mr. Lavy, perform their segment of the Fine Arts Festival.

Ms. Char Schuman and Mr. Don Mowry supervised the setup of the visual displays.

Conducted by Mr. Martin Lydecker, the concert band performed three selections for their audience.

These two paintings reflect the quality of the art exhibits.

The choir joins both bands in the traditional finale, the performance of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Two worlds meet in Bangkok

he King and I, a Rodgers and Hammerstein production, was presented in the high school auditorium on March 19, 20, and 21, under the direction of first year advisor, Mr. Eugene Fisher. Conflicts caused by the meeting of Eastern and Western cultures are the basis for the story. Anna (Marci Patton) came from Wales to govern the King's (Matt Buderer) 60 children. During her stay, Anna comes to influence the King, his children, and his wives.

Other important parts were performed by: Doug Waterfield, Captain Orten; Arthur Funni, Louis Leonovens; Brad Zech, Interpreter; Gary Fahey, Kralahome; David Stuck, Phra Alack; Jeff Kearney, Lun Tha; Suzanne White, Tuptim; Nancy Bing, Lady Thiang; Randy Westgate, Prince Chalulalongkorn and Ray Whitacre, Sir Edward Ramsey. The cast also included 60 grade school children.

Overall Mr. Fisher concluded, "I think the musical was extremely successful. Financially, we didn't lose any money; educationally, everyone had a good learning experience. We made a lot of friends, but most of all we built pride in what we accomplished."

Sir Walter Ramsey, (Ray Whitacre) bids farewell to Anna.

Anna teaches the King an English waltz upon his request.

The King (Matt Buderer) watches as his 60 children are presented.

Julie Lee, was on of the 60 elementary students who was able to participate in this year's musical.

Royal Slave (Greg Butcher), Lady Thiang (Nancy Bing), and Tuptim (Sue White) listen as Anna teaches them the customs of the New World.

As Anna (Marci Patton) writes attentively, the King dictates a letter to be sent to the Queen of England.

Louis (Arthur Funni) and Anna prepare for their arrival at Siam.

Sadie Hawkins' couples marry

tudents clad in overalls, flannel shirts, hats and bandanas attended the annual Sadie Hawkins dance in the high school gymnasium on February 27. The dance gives the girls an opportunity to ask their favorite guy out for a night of dancing, entertainment and dinner.

This year's entertainment was provided by Northern Wave, a local band. Alumni Brian Collins and Les Wilson, 1979 graduates, were members of the group. A western setting was supplied by a Sandusky photographer for all couples who wished to get their pictures taken.

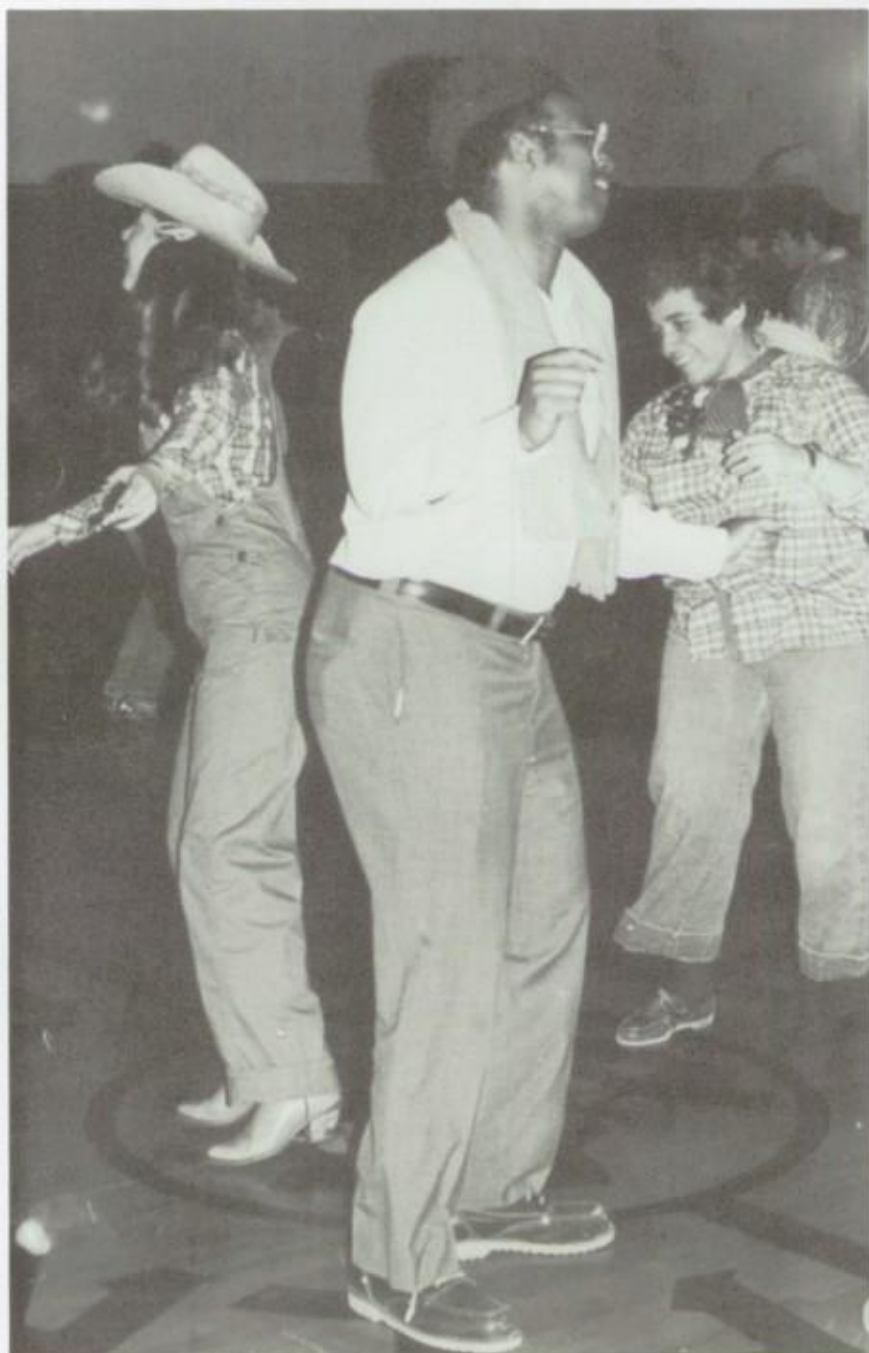

This year the Marryin' Sams, Miss Fultz, Mr. Matthewson and Mrs. Smith illegally wed any couples who wanted to get hitched.

The dance was a big money-making success for the Student Council because it was well attended.

Aqua-Tones scan silver screen

From the introductory number "Fame" to the grand finale of "That's Entertainment" the 1981-82 Aqua-Tones scanned the silver screen for this year's show, "At the Movies." The main attractions of this year's show, which was held on May 6, 7, and 8, were a solo swum by junior Nancy Hesse to the theme of "The Godfather" and a duet performed by sophomore Amy Smith and junior Chris Smith to "The Blues Brothers."

Under the supervision of second-year advisor Mr. Tom Kinsel and first-year advisor Mrs. Sandra Shencavitz, the girls spent the last six months practicing for the final production. Parents worked on the lighting and costumes, and student managers volunteered time to work behind the scenes to help make the show a success.

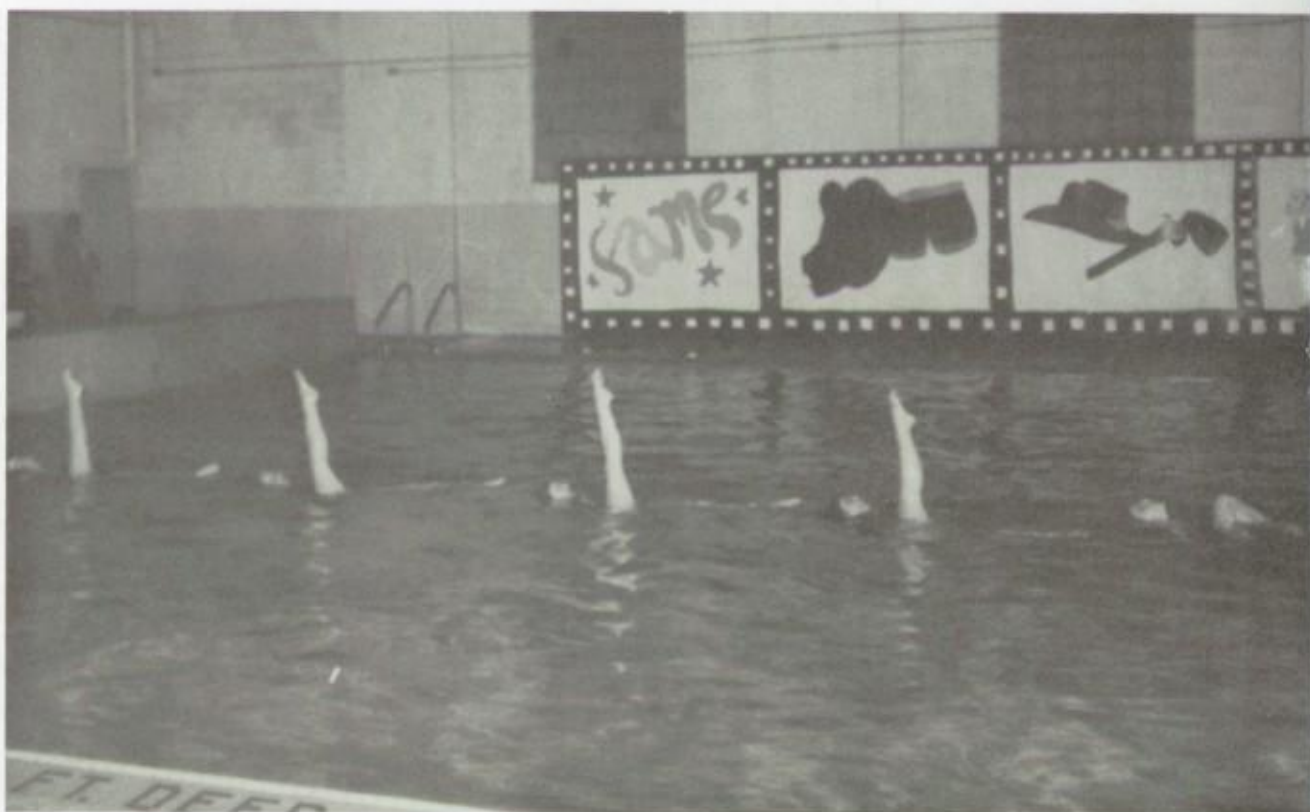

To add a comical side to the show, 10 senior guys performed their own routine to "Heavy Metal", allowing the girls time to change costumes.

"I feel that the show went very well and that it was one of the better productions put on here at PHS," stated Mr. Kinsel.

Log distributed free

Our school newspaper, the Pirate's Log, was published nine times this year. This year's staff members included editor-in-chief, Kim Otto; news editor, Shelley Ross; feature editors, Sarah Bartholomew and Candy Thomas; sports editor, Kevin Cummings; music editor, Sue Stahura; and advisor, Mrs. Lois Souter. The Journalism I classes also contributed articles.

This year the Log tried something new and gave the paper away instead of charging the usual 25¢. Since the paper is self-supporting and costs approximately $180 for each issue, the staff had many fund raising projects. The staff held a candy sale, a bake sale, and a car wash. Money was also raised through commercial and patron ads.

The six major staffers were in charge of writing and editing the newspaper copy and laying out each paper.

Sarah Bartholomew and Candy Thomas, Chip and Dale, creatively collaborated on ideas for the feature page.

Staffer Shelley Ross researches information for a LOG article.

Glen Branscum puts the final touches on his copy before turning it in.

LOG editor Kim Otto finishes the layouts for the special Christmas issue.

Band rates superior overall

Under the direction of Dennis Lavy, Martin Lydecker, and Thomas O'Shaughnessy, the Perkins High School band excelled in all areas of their program; marching band, concert band, and as a source of pride and spirit. For the second consecutive year, the band participated in the Ohio Music Education State Marching Band Competition at Franklin County Stadium in Columbus. Under the field direction of Gary Fahey and Craig Pack, the band competed with 19 bands in their class and was one of only five bands to receive a I (superior) rating. The Pirate Marching Band received the superior ratings needed to qualification to state at both the Barberton and Newark competitions that they attended. In addition to the ratings, the band won first in their class at Barberton and third in their class at Newark. The Pirettes, a drill team, also performed with the band.

The Wind Ensemble and the Concert band both took part in the District II band competition held here at Perkins. Both bands received I ratings which qualified them for state. For the fifth year in a row, the Wind Ensemble received a superior rating at this level. This year's Concert band, the first in Perkins history, received an excellent (II) rating for their performance.

Along with all the hours that the band prepared for these competitions, they still found time to keep the school's pride and spirit high. The band performed at football and basketball games, at pep rallies, at the Christmas Concert, Fine Arts Festival, Defiance Marching Band Festival, and the Sandusky Marching Band Festival. Some members played in the pit orchestra for this year's musical.

"It has been a pleasure to work with kids who were willing to work so hard," commented Mr. Lavy.

During their stay at band camp, the field commanders and Pirettes got a chance to pose with Big Chuck.

Choir sings throughout community

In his first year of directing, Mr. Eugene Fisher kept the choir busy singing throughout the community. The concert choir performed at the Christmas Concert, Fine Arts Festival and at the band and choir contest where they received an excellent rating.

Harmony, a twelve member ensemble, performed at the Christmas concert, Fine Arts Festival, Providence Hospital, Mr. Ries' home, Erie County Care Center, American Legion and the Kiwanis Club.

The choir also helped to sponsor the spring musical, The King and I, which was their major fund-raising project.

Mr. Fisher and the 1981-1982 choir members presented several concerts during the Christmas season.

Mr. Fisher looks on as pianist, Stacey Lowrey, keeps the tempo for the choir.

SIG promotes scientific study

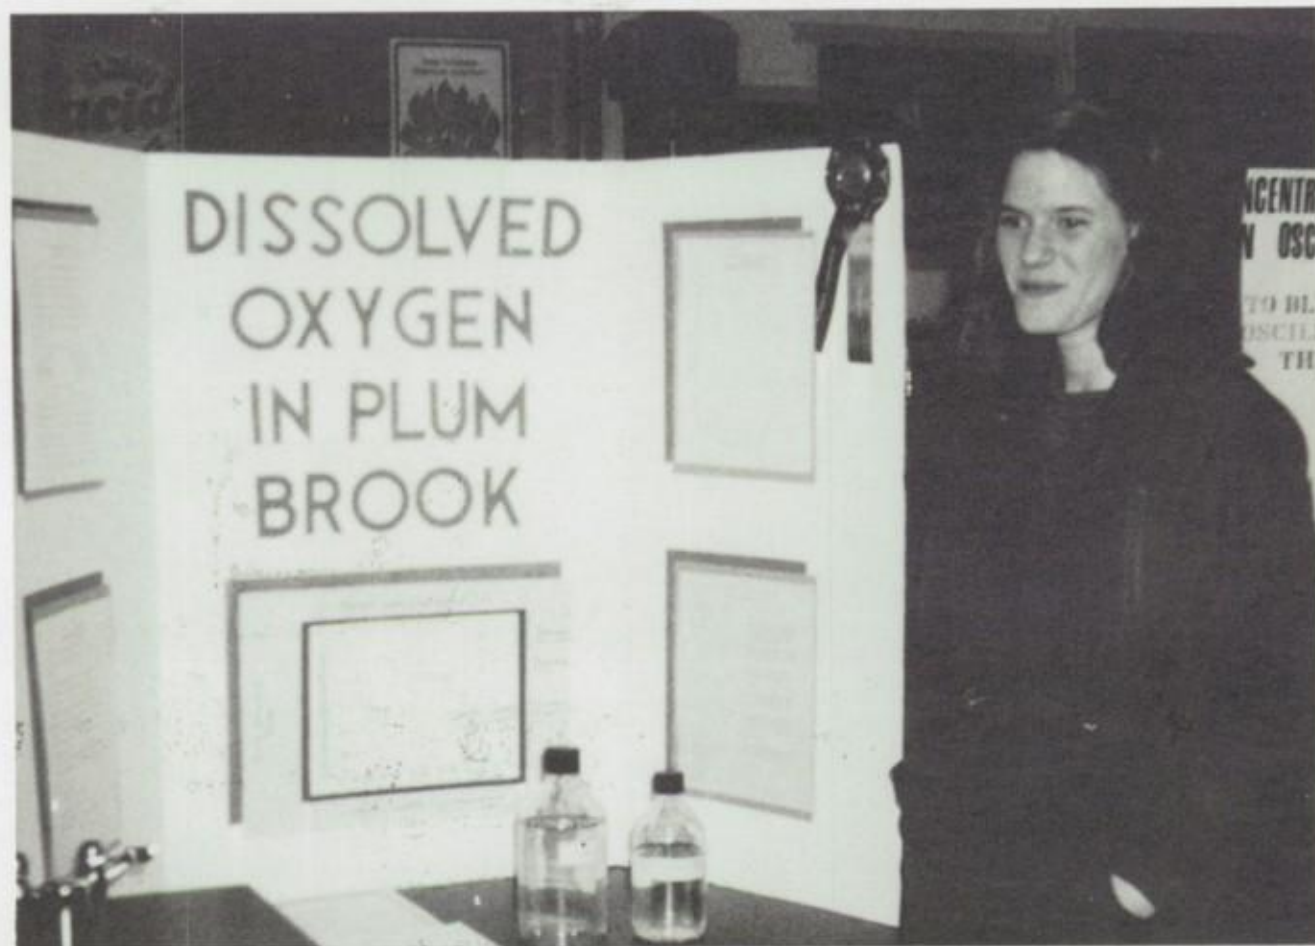

Under the supervision of Mrs. Carol Palmer and Mr. John Blakeman twenty three students were involved in the Science Interest Group this year. The purpose of the group is to provide enriching experiences for interested science students. It is hoped that students will develop a sense of respect, wonder, and excitement for the scientific process.

The group undertook two projects this year: they completed a limnological study of Plum Brook, conducting tests which enabled them to determine the ecology of the stream, and they also completed the dissection of Felis catus.

Other trips led by Mrs. Palmer and Mr. Blakeman during the year were to the US Fish & Wildlife Service, Perkins Land Lab, Berlin Heights Ravine, Lake Erie Geological Survey Office, and the Firelands Environmental & Chemistry Labs.

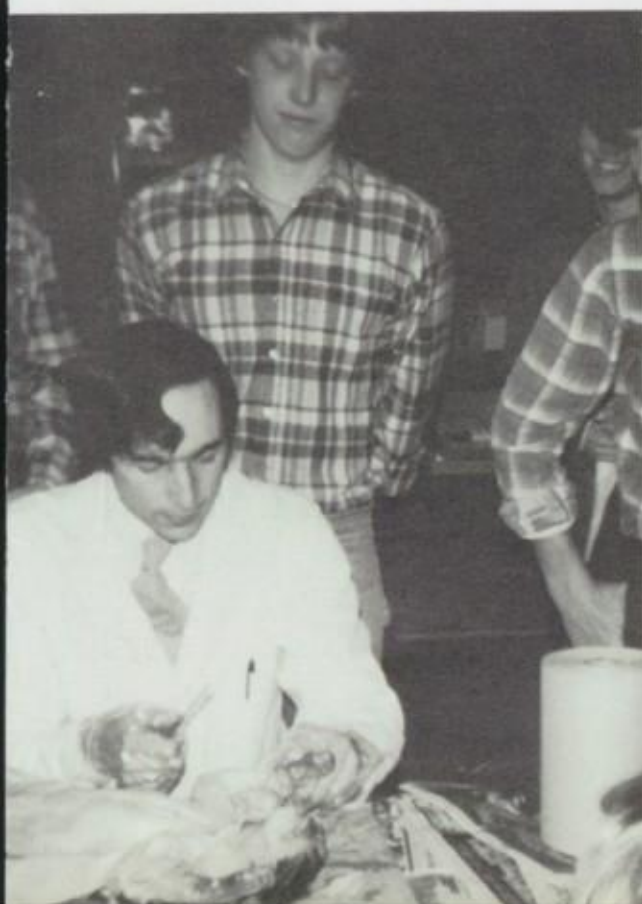

Several students used the activities of SIG to complete water pollution projects for the science symposium. Members of the Science Interest Group also became eligible to receive funding from the group to be used in purchasing materials to complete their science symposium projects.

Gianna Dagiau is one of the many students whose symposium projects were helped through membership in SIG.

Coronation highlights CBBS' activities

Tara Rollison, sophomore, was crowned this year's queen for the Confederation for the Betterment of Black Students. First runner-up was Ruth Sabbah, followed by the second runner-up, Patrice Harris. The girls were escorted by Paul Keys, Gary Haskins and Tracy Doster respectively.

Mrs. Janet Croom, a Perkins alumnae, was the guest speaker. Her topic was the responsibility of young people to quit being the "cool dude" and start being the "caring person". Nina Harris, another former student at PHS, presented a poetry reading describing the importance of Blacks. Other entertainers were Carol Pentorn, who sang a solo, "Just Once", and also a duet with Theresa Walker entitled "The Body Electric". The Apache Dames: Terry Payton, Liz Jackson, Robin Jones, and Theresa Walker, also danced at this year's ceremony.

Masters of ceremonies were Patrice Harris and Anthony Gowdy. Mr. Matthewson was once again the CBBS advisor.

The program culminated in the crowning of Tara which marked the end of Black History month at PHS.

Carol Pentorn moved the audience by singing her verse of "Just Once".

Last year's first runner-up, Nina Harris, presented a poem to the audience.

This year's CBBS members are: Greg Jones, Malcolm Haskins, Theresa Walker, Dawn Harmon, Morna Rollison, Patrice Harris, Gary Haskins, Tara Rollison, Ruth Sabbah, Tracy Doster, Carmelle Garrett, Paul Keys, Terri Payton, Debbie Crosby, Liz Jackson, Anthony Gowdy, and adviser, Mr. Gordon Matthewson.

Escorted by Gary Haskins, first runner-up Ruth Sabbah proceeds to her seat of honor.

Dwelle, Fox take top honors

Future Farmers of America or FFA, as it is commonly known, is a national organization for students studying vocational agriculture. This year's club was guided by first year advisor, Mr. Zimmerman, and the following officers: president, Bert Dwelle; vice-president, Cheryl Rickley; secretary, Kathy Schwanger; sentinel, Ed Mitchell; and student advisor, Joe Schlessman. The club's fund-raising projects included operating an ice-cream stand at the fair, selling seeds and sausage, and sponsoring a horse show and feeder pig project.

At the annual banquet the top award for the 1981-82 school year, the Star Chapter Farmer, was presented to Bert Dwelle, while the Star Greenhand award, an award for the most outstanding freshman, was presented to Shawn Fox.

Home Economics Club provides service, not only to the members themselves, but also to the school and community. Guiding this year's club was advisor, Mrs. Lorna Gregory, and the following officers: President-Kim Nixon, vice-president-Kay Pankow, secretary-Christen Hall, treasurer-Pam Archer, and historian-Brenda Keen.

The club participated in many activities such as preparing and serving the Law Day luncheon, serving at the Honors Banquet, and providing refreshments for the Science Fair judges and band contest judges. As a community service project the group colored forty dozen Easter eggs and distributed them to Providence Hospital. The money from fund-raising projects such as making Valentine cakes and fudge, and selling cook-books all went toward financing their annual banquet which was held on May 20th at the Corner Store Restaurant in Castalia.

Ski Club tackles slopes

n every Tuesday for six weeks, the Ski Club traveled to Brandywine Ski Resort. There they enjoyed hours of fun skiing, sitting around a fireplace and meeting new friends. This year's Ski Club consists not only of high school students, but teachers and parents as well.

The 1981-82 officers are; Faith Cebull-President; Sandy Simcox-Vice-President; Shelly Ross-Secretary; and Julie Routsong-Treasurer.

For the sixth year, Mrs. Donna Wendt was once again the advisor. Mrs. Carol Smith's exclamation, "It's great!" summed up the entire club's reactions to the fun-filled Brandywine trips.

Clubs give diversity to language scholars

Offering scholarships to graduating seniors with two years of Latin was the Latin Club's major project. These scholarships are funded by the money raised during their rummage sale. This year's club, which was advised by Mrs. Monica Gellett, went on a field trip to the Toledo Museum of Art. This year's officers are: Consuls, Rich Schuster and Candy Thomas; secretary, Denise Hoffman; and, treasurer, Peggy Hamby.

Spanish Club planned and carried out many activities during the 1981-82 school year. Among these many activities were holding a Christmas potluck, eating out at Margaritaville, going to Mexico over spring break, and attending a Spanish Day at Findlay College.

Second year advisor, Miss Fultz, and this year's officers: president-Jenny Cuthbertson; vice-president-Kris Gordon; secretary-Amy Smith; and treasurer-Jean Glossa, helped to make this year's activities successful.

Advisor, Mrs. JoAnn Gawryzsewski and this year's officers president, Jim Gawryzsewski; vice-president, Candy Thomas; secretary, Sarah Bartholomew; treasurer, Kim Mushett; and historian, Pam Harris kept this year's club active. The club was involved in a field trip to the Toledo Museum of Art, a French Christmas dinner, a Mardi Gras celebration, and a Toussaint Day celebration. The Toussaint celebration is a festival honoring French saints and is similar to our Halloween.

Varsity P upholds tradition

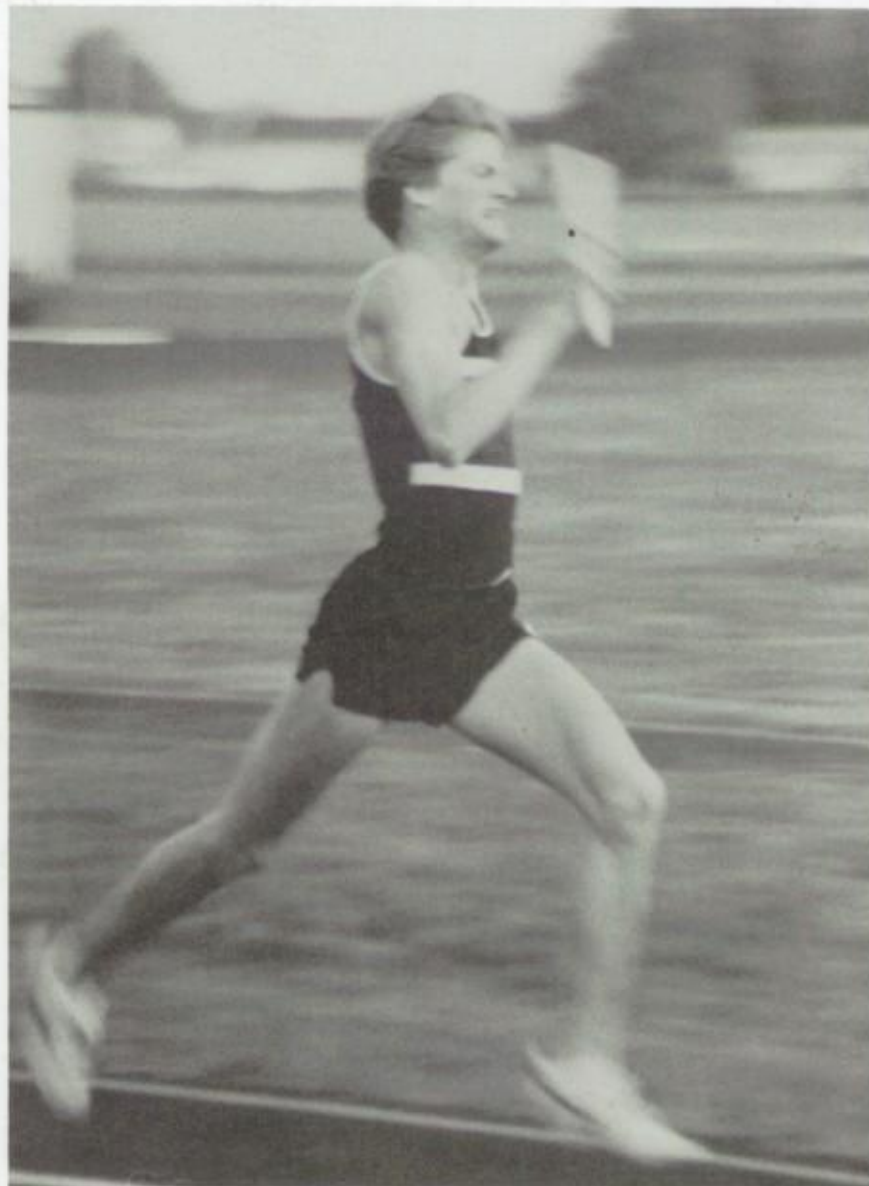

ll athletes earning a letter in a varsity sport are eligible to join and take part in girls' or boys' Varsity P clubs. Holding ropes during basketball games, hosting the Battle of the Sexes, changing the announcement board and purchasing championship banners are the tasks both clubs succeeded in doing together.

The Girls' Varsity P club also awarded a deserving athlete with a club scholarship at graduation. Updating the boys' track record board has kept the Boys' Varsity P club busy since many records have been broken this year. Both groups were also able to purchase a season pass to all home athletic events by paying their annual $5 dues.

This year's officers consisted of Marcy Speer and Tim Marzec as presidents, Karen Brown and Scott McCune as vice-presidents, Nancy Bing and Greg Butcher as secretaries and Amy Grathwol and Dean Smith as treasurers. This year's clubs were advised by Miss Brenda Weaver and Mr. Jim Hauser.

By breaking three records, Scott McCune kept the Boys' Varsity P busy updating the track record board.

The 1981-82 Boys' Varsity P officers are: president, Tim Marzec; vice-president, Scott McCune; secretary, Greg Butcher; and treasurer, Dean Smith.

Class sweethearts, Marcy Speer and Tim Marzec, both received the Pirate award which is given to the boy and girl who have attained at least five letters in three different sports.

Science students take top honors

Perkins Science Department claims 1982 as its finest year. The students walked away with with regional and state honors and became the state science champions.

It all began with the local Science Symposium held in March. Seven superior projects were chosen by a selected group of science adjudicators.

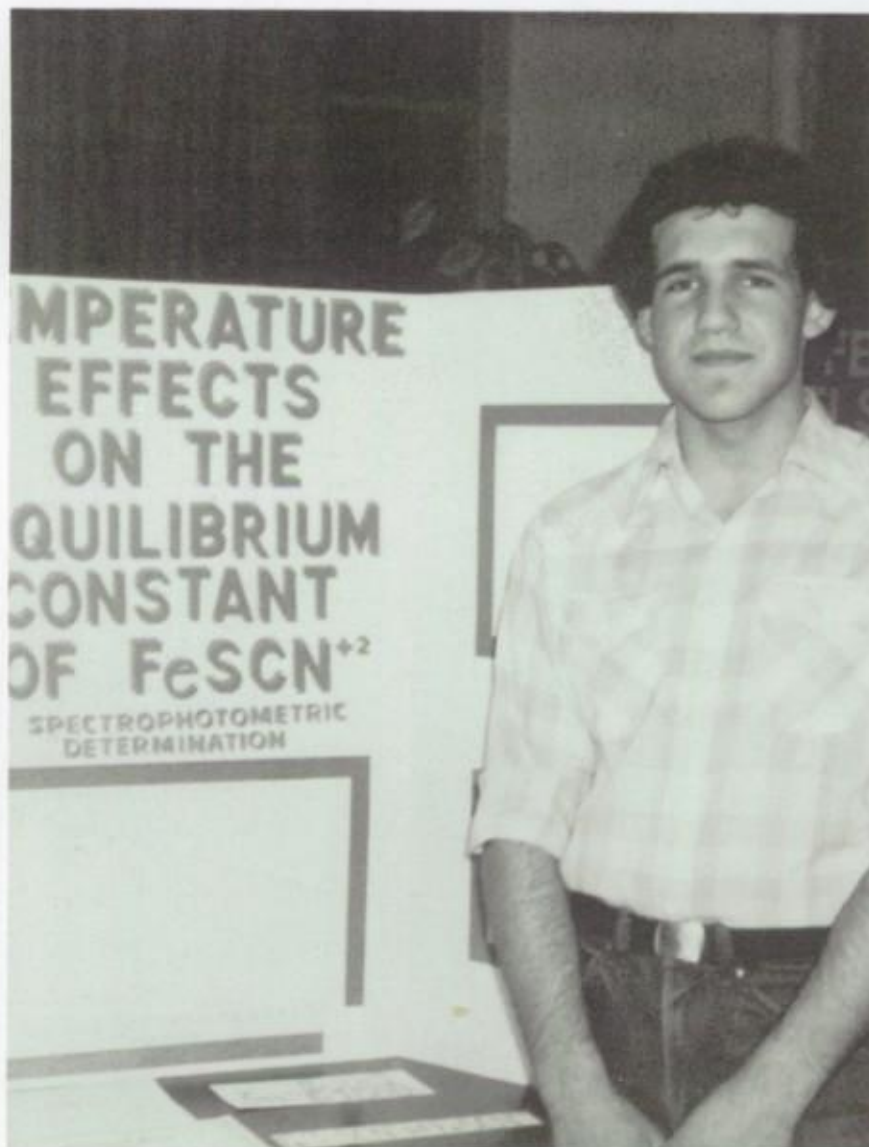

Students with superiors in the local symposium then traveled to Ashland College for Regional Science Day.

When the judging was over, Perkins emerged as the outstanding high school with the highest percentage of superiors competing against 40 other schools.

Later in April Perkins was one of 166 schools to compete for honors at the State Science Day. Perkins was one of three schools to win the Harold C. Shaw Science Achievement Award. To achieve this award at least 80% of the students had to receive a superior rating and no student could receive lower than an excellent.

"This award is equivalent to winning the state basketball championship," said Lynn Elfner, executive officer of the Ohio Academy of Science.

Students portray teachers at banquet

Membership in NHS is one of the most prestigious awards that can be bestowed upon any high school junior or senior. This year 35 new members were inducted, nine seniors and 26 juniors during an assembly that was held on March 11.

Once again, this year's members had a Christmas party for the pediatric ward at Providence Hospital. The members presented the children with Christmas stockings which they had made and filled themselves. They also participated in many other activities such as selling flowers on Valentine's and St. Patrick's Days, selling tickets for athletic events and holding the annual banquet for the new inductees. The senior members also spent a day at Mohican State Park canoeing.

The banquet was held on May 13 at Sandusky High School. Mr. Ferrell, the county superintendent, spoke to the newly elected members and their parents.

This year's officers are: president, Dean Smith; vice-president, Sue Davlin; secretary, Beth Stockdale; treasurer, Scott McCune; and historian, Patty Stengel. Mrs. Marian Hancy was again the group's advisor.

Teams take challenge

Firelands Challenge is an academic quiz competition based on the students' general knowledge. The program's participants are expected to have acquired the knowledge for the competition at school or in their everyday lives. This year Perkins was represented by sophomores; Eric Alafita, Barry Arndt; juniors: Mark Nielsen, Rich Schuster, Rick Smith, Doug Waterfield; and Seniors: Pete Keleher, and Dave Smith. Under the supervision of their advisors, Mrs. Cathy Zeiher and Mr. Edward Muffler, this year's team placed third out of field of 11 schools. The team qualified for the championship round, yet they fell short to Edison and Norwalk High Schools respectively.

Academic Challenge is similar to Firelands Challenge in format, yet different in that it is a televised program and a team has only one chance to participate. Eric Alafita, Mark Nielsen, and Pete Keleher competed for Perkins while Barry Arndt, Rich Schuster, and Rick Smith were alternates. This year the team performed against students from Brookshire and Lutheran East high schools. Perkins placed second with a 300 to 310 point loss to Lutheran East. Once again, Mrs. Zeiher and Mr. Muffler were advisors for the team.

Dave Smith and Pete Keleher, like the other team members, spend many hours preparing for competition.

Student Council for a better PHS

Through the year, Student Council sponsored various projects which were for the betterment of the school. The first project that they undertook was sponsoring the Homecoming dance. The club was responsible not only for decorating and selling tickets, but also for providing the entertainment.

Later in the year they also put on another dance, the Sadie Hawkins, where they performed the same functions.

Once again, the Student Council held an annual Bloodmobile in the auxiliary gymnasium. This gave the community and the students the opportunity to donate blood for Red Cross.

For the second year, the club entertained the student body by holding a slave day. On this day, the students and faculty had the chance to purchase the cheerleader or football player of their choice. Slave day proved to be the club's most profitable money making project. Another activity run by the Student Council is the Pirate's Cove, which enables the students to purchase needed school supplies along with gum and candy.

This year's officers are: president, Carla Melson; vice-president, Ellen Matz; secretary, Felicia McCracken; treasurer, Tina Brady; and historian, Jeff Kearney. Mrs. Cathy Zeiher, once again for the second year, served as advisor to the club.

Sandy Snyder, assistant treasurer, waits on Benji Garcia at the Pirates Cove.

Delegation dominates outh in Government was perhaps one of, if not the most, productive year the Perkins delegation experienced in the last 10 years that we have been participating in the program," stated advisor Mr. Edward Muffler.

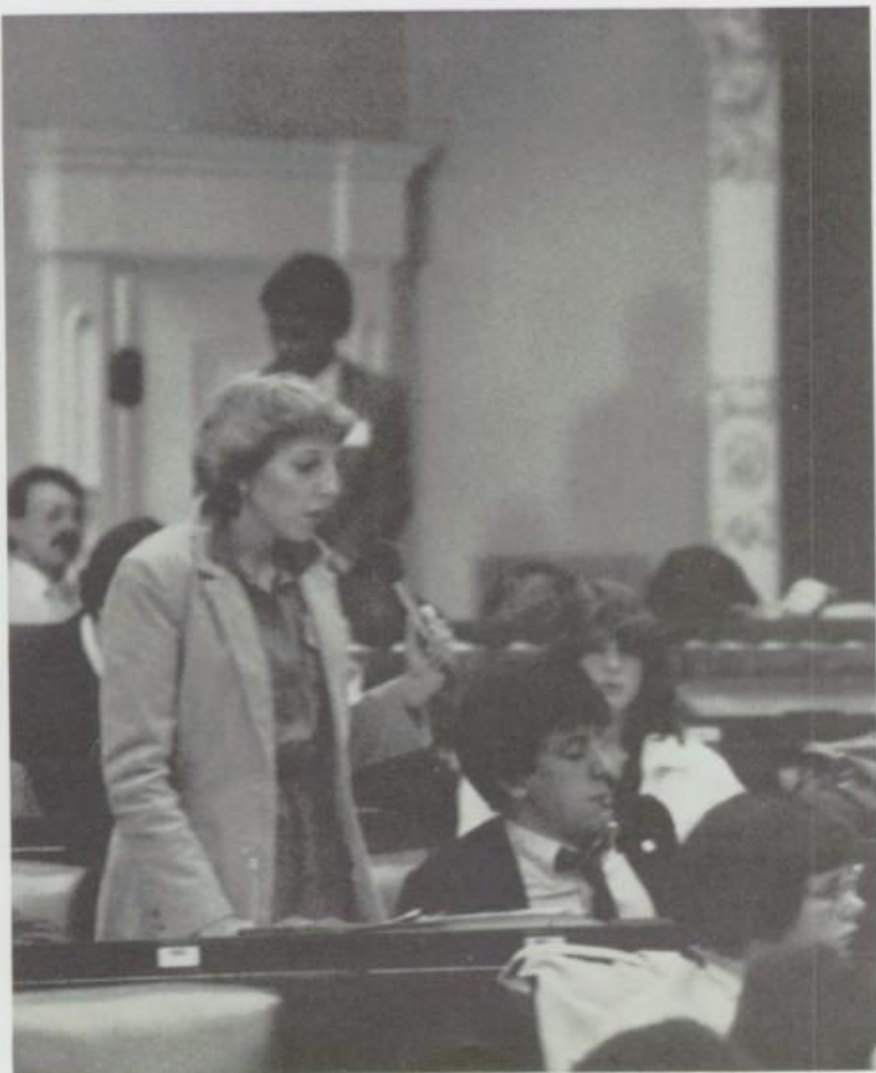

This year Perkins sent 24 delegates to the mock session in Columbus, Ohio. They were given a chance to choose between participation in the legislative or the judicial branch of government.

Those students who participated in the judicial branch presented a court case complete with witnesses in front of a local judge. The case was then appealed to a mock Supreme Court during their stay in Columbus.

Each student and a partner in the legislative worked on a bill that they thought would be beneficial to Ohio residents. After the bills were completed, they were rated and put in order of importance. All of the student delegates met in the House and Senate chambers to decide on which bills should become law. Each bill was brought up in front of a committee. If the bill passed there, it went onto the floor of the House or Senate, and then to the mock governor who could veto the bill or pass it.

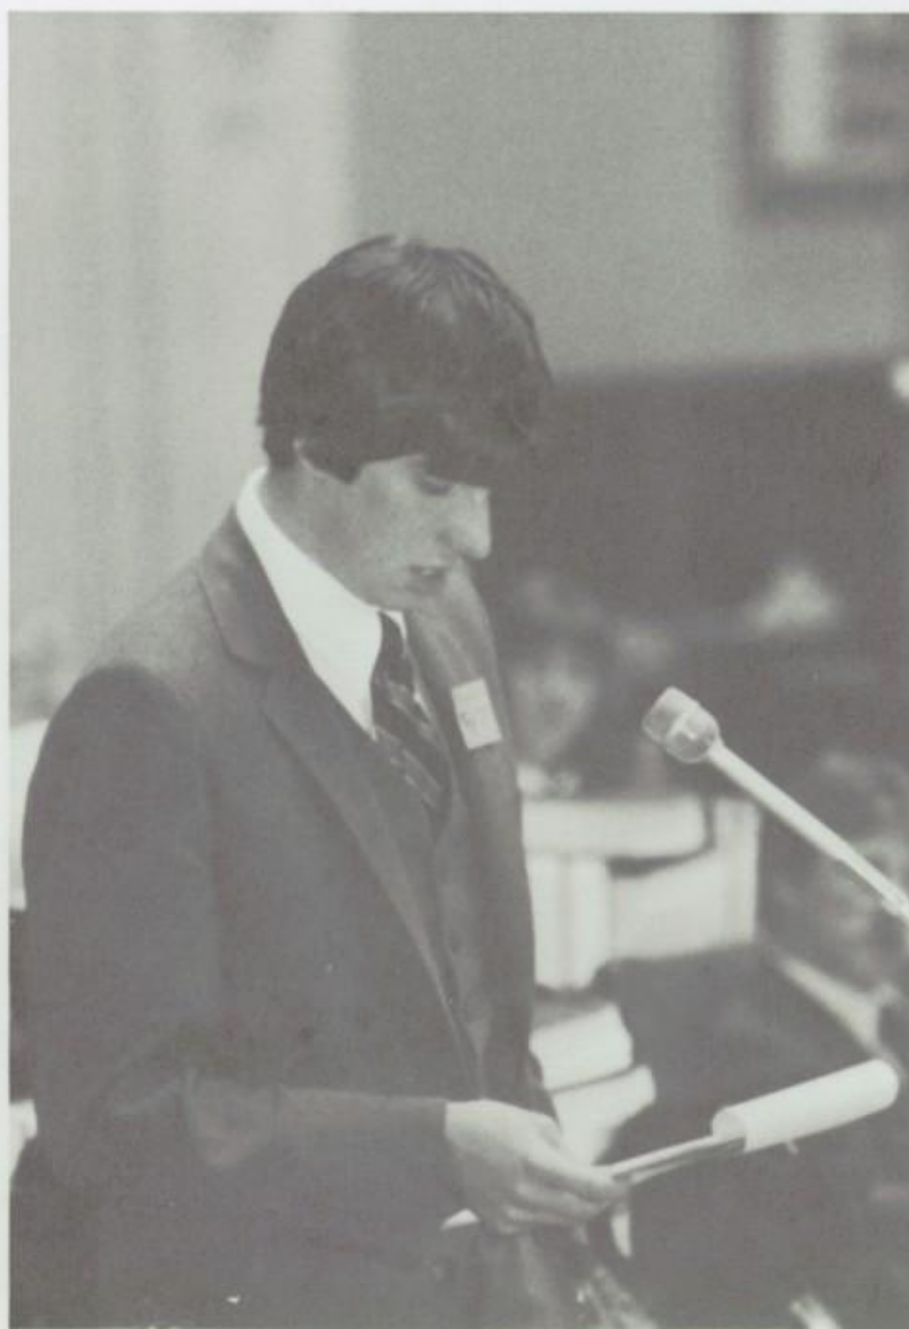

"Topping off this year's successful program was the election of Ellen Matz as Clerk of the House of Representatives, a position of utmost responsibility. Her selection represented many weeks of diligent work. The bench mark of this year's delegates will be difficult to match and represents a viable challenge to future participants," Mr. Muffler concluded.

Ellen Matz, who was chosen as clerk of the House, takes time out to defend her bill.

Members of the mock Senate, Scott McCune and Patty Stengel listen intently to the bill being debated.

Pete Keleher introduces his bill on stricter penalties for parole violations.

Quadrant staff searches for treasure uadrant staff this year consisted of nine members. Under the instruction of Mrs. Lois Souter, the staff planned and organized completely the production of the yearbook.

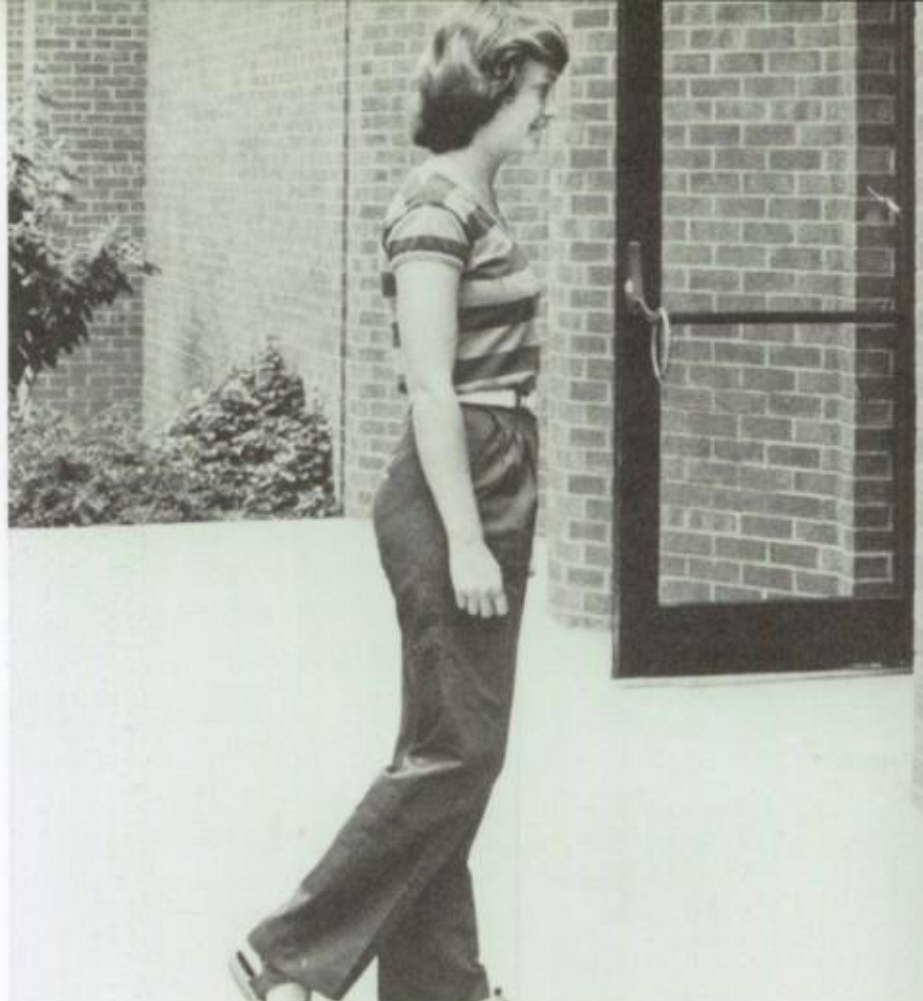

The Quadrant staffers began early this year deciding upon the theme and the cover of the book. The staffers then organized the pictures, drew the lay-outs, wrote the copy and captions, and prepared everything so that the final lay-outs could be sent to the publishers.

As the year progressed, Editor Beth Stockdale and the staff learned the true meaning of deadlines. Co-ordinating copy, pictures and planning sheets for 200 pages and getting them done on time was a definite challenge.

In order to pay for the book, each staff member was in charge of getting advertisements and selling books to the students. Subscriptions were sold during the fall of the year.

"This has been a great year for Quadrant. Having the top students in the class certainly has been an advantage for all of us. It was fun to work with intelligent, hard working students," commented Mrs. Souter.

ACADEMICS

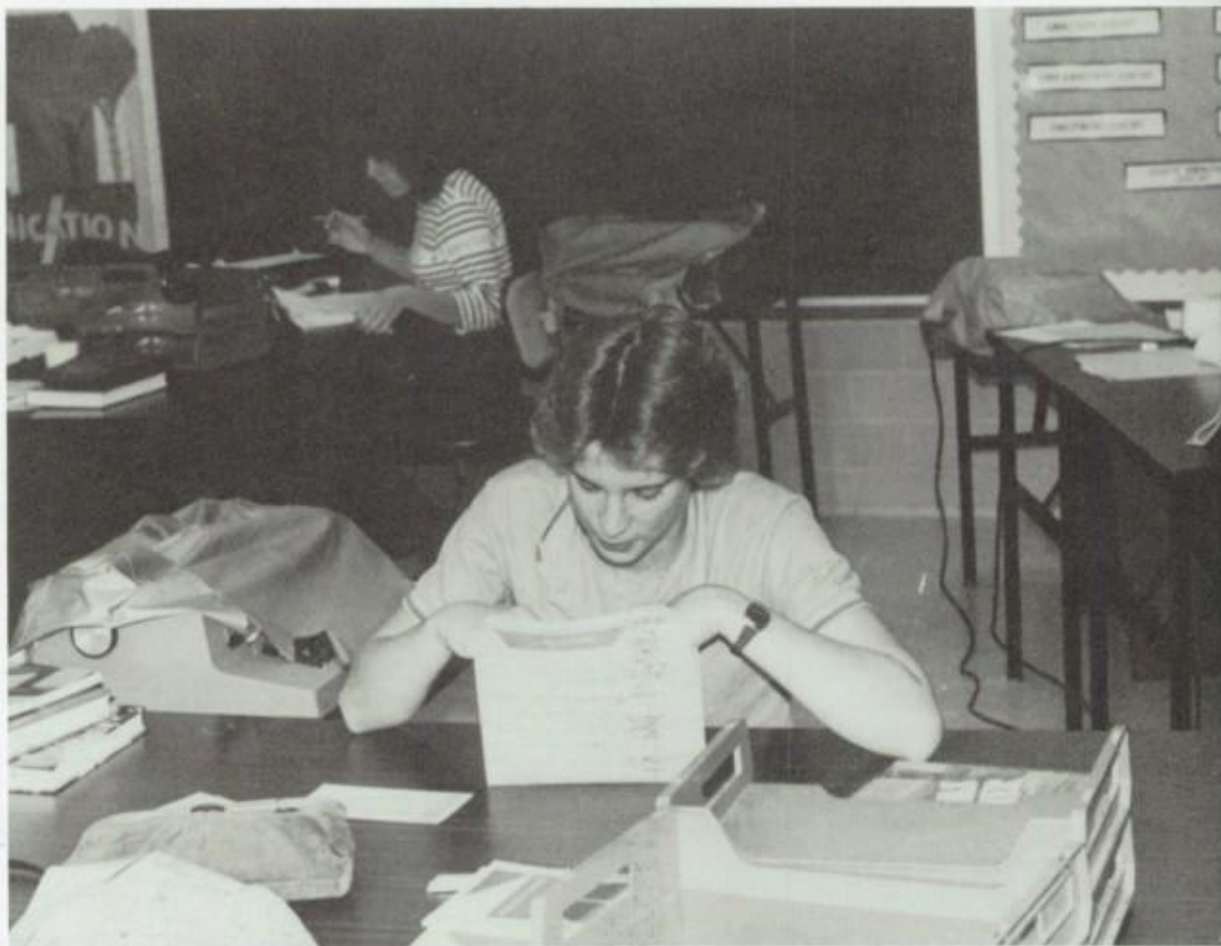

ACADEMICS

COE on the job training

COE (Cooperative Education Group), consists of fifteen students. These student attend school in the morning but are then dismissed to work in an office training station during the afternoon.

Mrs. Zura, their instructor, is also the advisor of the OEA club, (Office Education Association.) OEA's national service project involves working with the handicapped. This year they held a Halloween party for the students at Betty Rinderle School.

COE members also competed in regional and state contests. In regionals Lisa Matter placed first in advanced typing; Diane Bauman placed third in job manual; and Barb Neidler placed third in bulletin board. Lisa Matter also qualified for state contest. OEA club officers consists of: Lisa Matter-President; Cindy Ehrhardt-Vice President; Becky Howard-Secretary; and Lori Fox-Treasurer.

Intensive Office Education prepares juniors for work

Diane Blackwood and Cathy Good join forces to complete a project. Stephanie Smith and Kim Sylvester help Sandy James "spell it right" while Kelly Todi looks on.

Mike Coleman corrects an error while typing from a dictation.

ntensive Office Education, IOE, is taught by Mrs. Zimmerman. This class is open only to juniors, who spend three hours a day in lab. The rest of the day the students take regular classes. During their lab they learn clerical typing, filing, business machines, accounting, and office behavior.

The club members consist of: Dawn Bickely- President, Beth Matthias-Vice President, Jill Brennan-Secretary, Stephanie Smith-Treasurer, and Lisa McPeck and Monica Dupler-Historians. The club activities include both local and community projects such as holding a party for Betty Rinderle students.

Pirate Program trains students to work with others

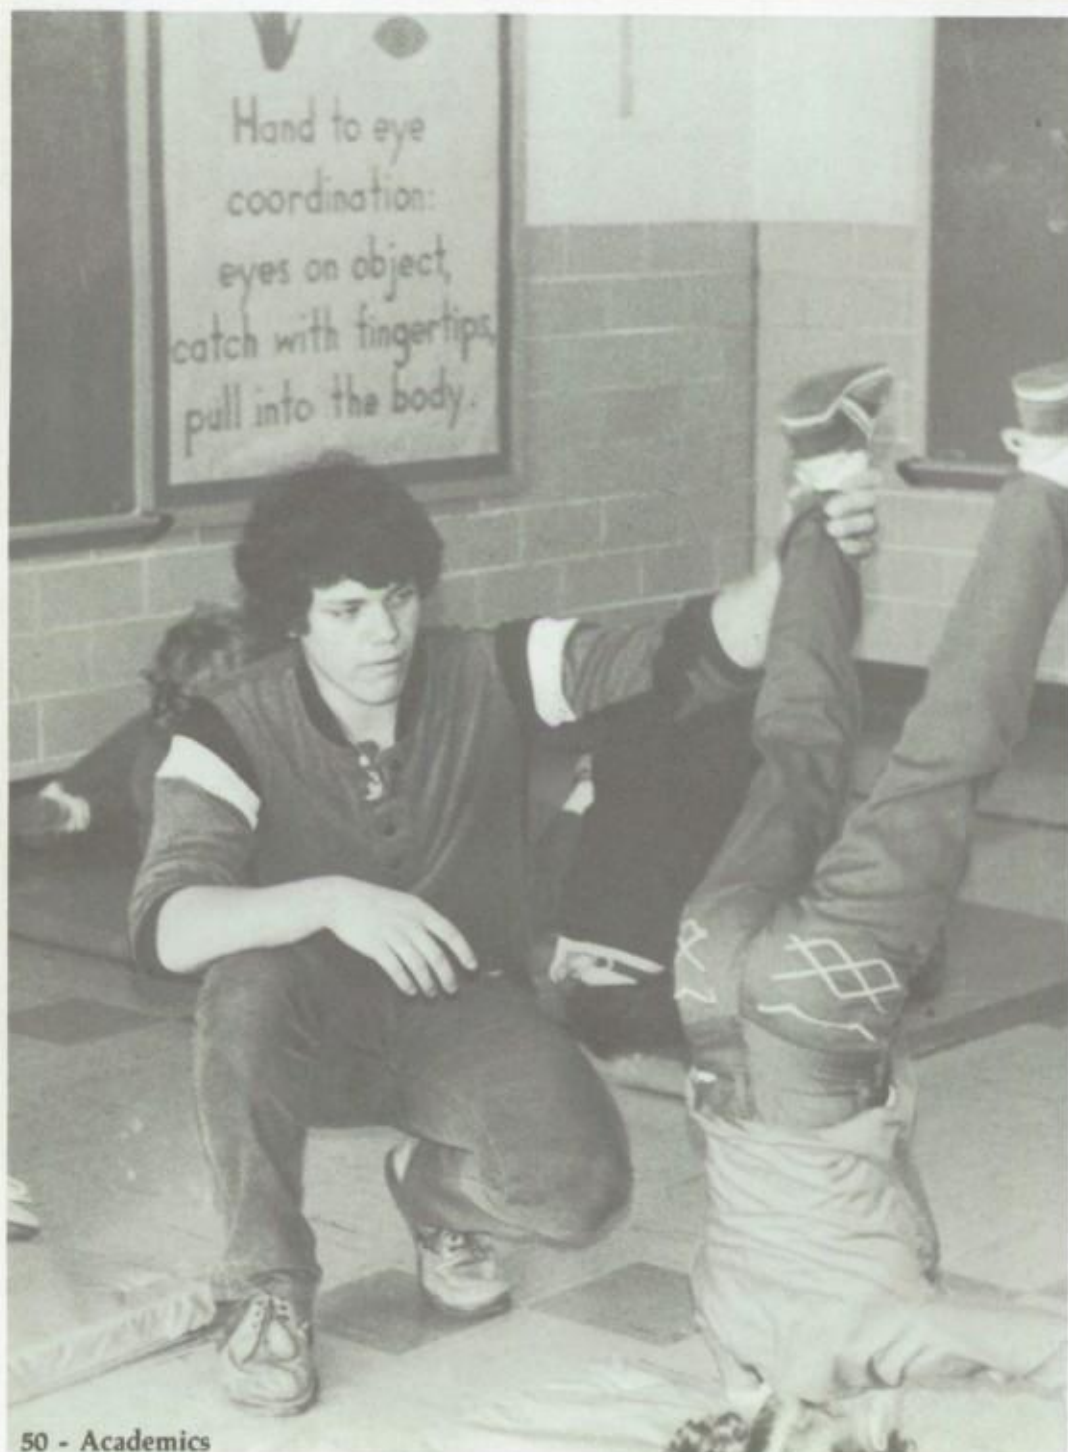

Unique to this school system is the Pirate Program, which is advised by Mrs. Studer. This program is for seniors interested in a career which deals with working with other people. The students work directly with other students within the system ranging from kindergarden to the middle school.

The students involved in the Pirate Program leave the school every day for six mods and tutor younger students in different subjects. Every two weeks they meet for a training session and discuss current problems such as drug abuse, child abuse, teenage pregnancy, suicide, behavior change, communication skill, and personality development.

The members of this year's program were: Diana Dolce, Sue Enstad, Connie Kaman, Ann Kromer, Kathy Manion, Jeff Mason, Jeff Matter, Marcy McPeck, Amy Meyers, Darren Michel, Julie Pascoe, Renee Sartor, and Sandy Sowecke.

Julie Pascoe and friend seem totally involved with the task at hand.

Diana Dolce is busy helping of Mrs. Halley's kindergarten students.

Amy Meyers stops to give advice to some of Mrs. Pahl's second graders.

Renee Sartor seems to enjoy helping with an art project.

Social studies gives students a look at the world

Mr. Matthewson encourages Liz Jackson to smile on the last day of history class.

Corinna Wechter is hard at work finishing a history test.

Claudine Clement is one of several sophomores who made a globe.

Recent graduate, Scott Cladwell, talks to a social studies class about life in the service.

Since four years of social studies is a graduation requirement, Perkins has six teachers to help students through those years.

Freshmen take Introduction to Social Studies, and sophomores have a choice between World Geography and World History. The juniors take U.S. History while Current Affairs and American Government are the senior courses.

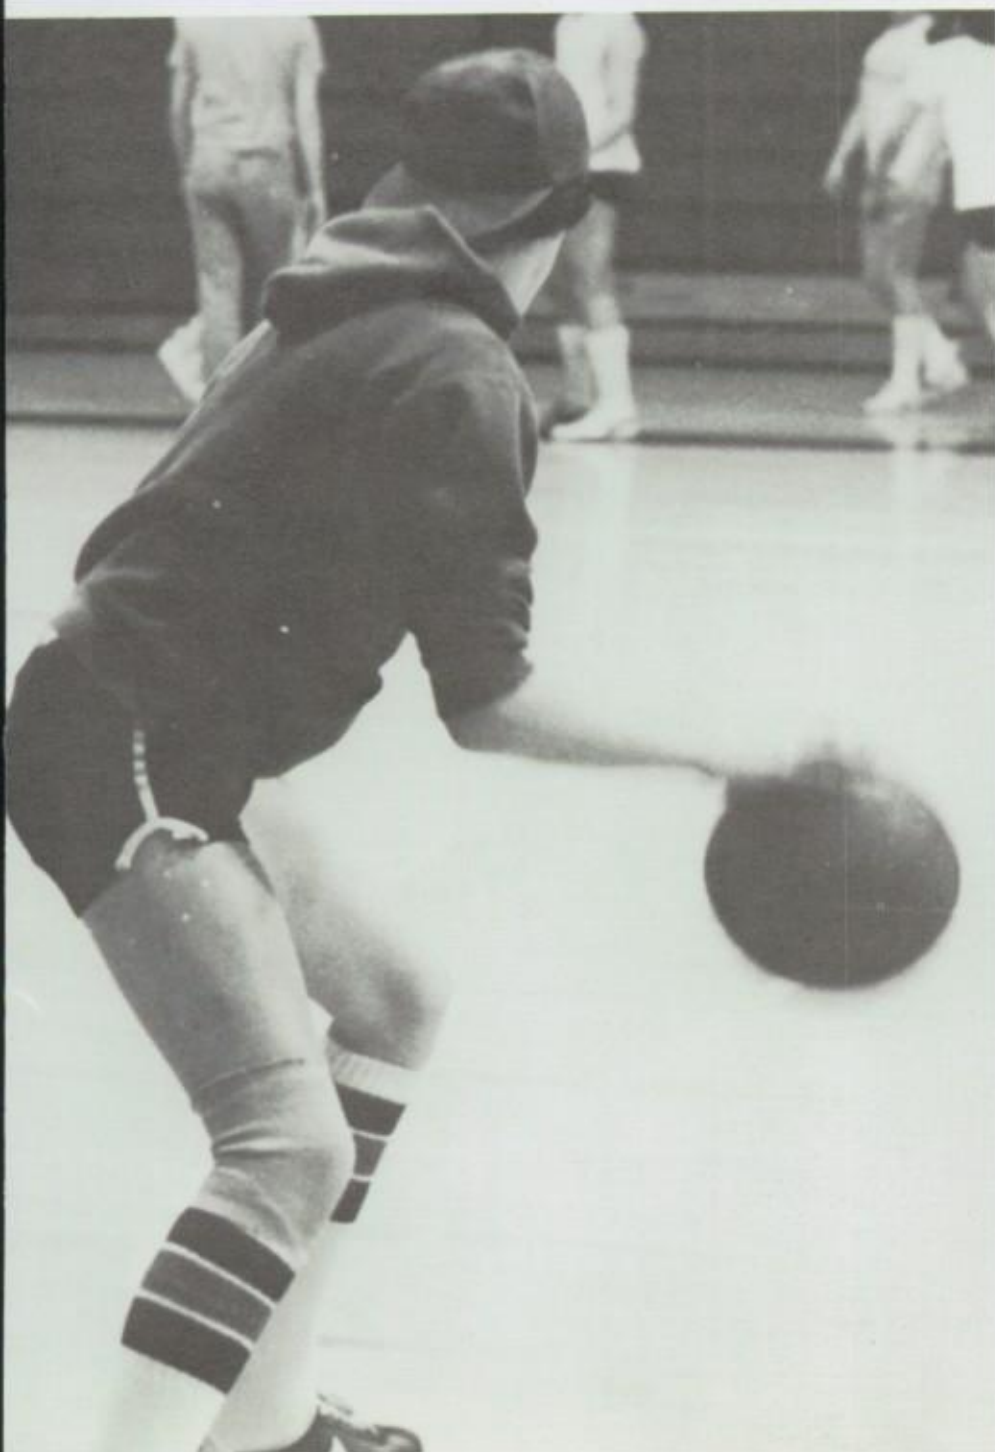

In addition to the classroom work, the Social Studies Department also sponsors a Law Day Program, Youth in Government Program and a voter registration program.

PE classes teach fun, fitness

Physical Education is a required class for freshmen and sophomores. The class meets every day for one semester. The girls and boys have separate classes and both are designed to further develop the skills learned in elementary gym classes. Some of the activities include, basketball, volleyball, track, and other activities both indoors and out.

Miss Brenda Weaver's girls' physical education classes learn to play volleyball.

Mr. Bob Frank returns homework papers in one of his English classes.

English teaches communication

Connie Ball, Roz Tarring, Lisa Fletcher, Patty Mariani and Lisa Dute pose with their projects from Mrs. Hancy's class.

Kim Otto finishes an article for the school newspaper in Journalism IV.

M

r. Richard Roesch is head of the Language Arts Department consisting of three men and five women. The department offers four years of English as well as, speech, journalism, creative writing and has a communications lab.

This year some students were given the opportunity to travel to England with Mrs. Marion Hancy. The four students and three faculty members went on this trip during their spring break.

The Journalism II, III and IV classes put together the newspaper and yearbook, while the Journalism I class project was a special edition newspaper.

Creative Writing, a new course at the high school this year, gave students an opportunity to express themselves. The class also published the 'Treasure Chest', a creative writing book, which hopefully will be continued in the years to come.

Languages alive and well rench, Latin and Spanish are all offered at the high school. Mrs. Gawryzewski teaches French, Mrs. Gellott teaches Latin, and Miss Fultz teaches Spanish. The French and Spanish students often cook and sample dishes from foreign countries. Taking these courses often encourages students to continue their foreign language education in college.

French is a happy experience for Pam Harris, Kim Mushett and Mrs. Joanne Gawryzewski.

Science Department combines variety, experience

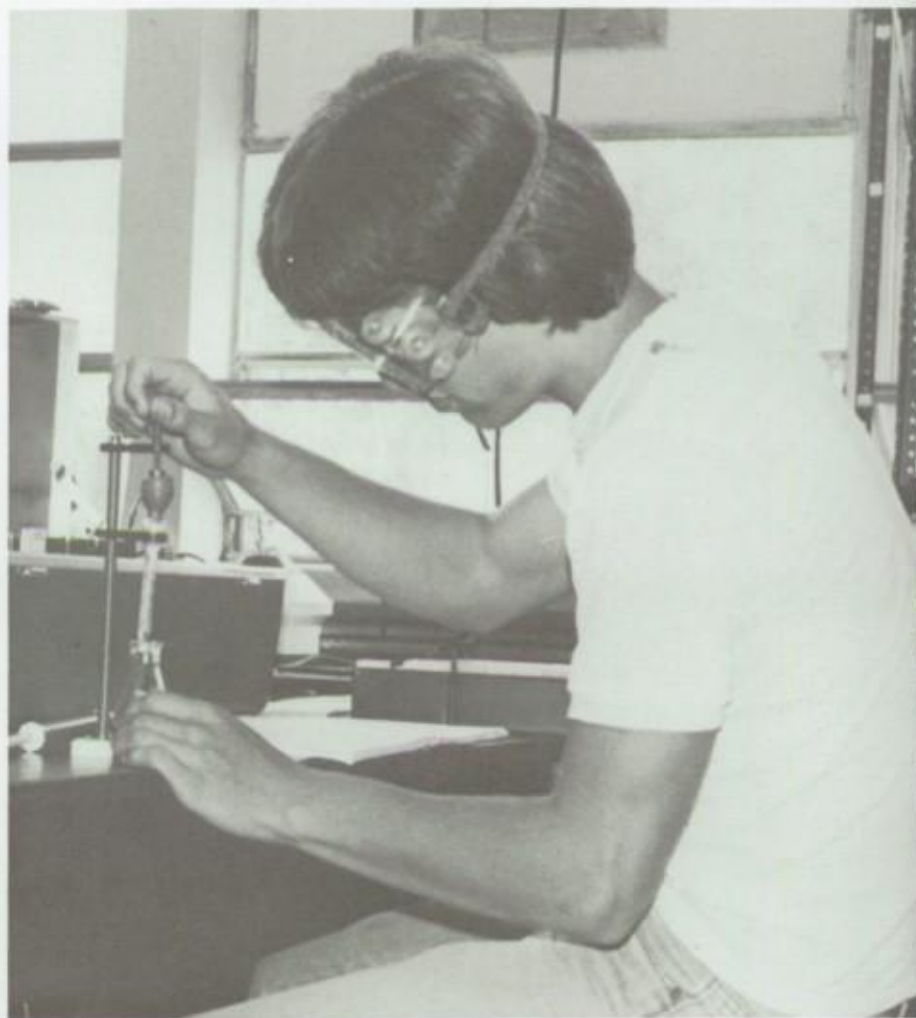

rs. Carol Palmer is the department chairman for the Science Department which consists of seven men and one woman. The department has six well-equipped laboratories and offers a variety of courses.

Teachers in the department have 116 years of combined experience.

The department encourages individual laboratory experience, sponsors a local science symposium and participates in district and state science days.

Cheryl Opper and Amy Frank put the finishing touches on their rockets for science class.

Only one year of mathematics is required for graduation, but Perkins High School offers a wide variety of courses. Among these are: general math, algebra, geometry, trigonometry and computer courses. In the computer programming classes students are given the opportunity to write and run their own programs. The attendance records and other school records are kept on computer files and programming students aide in the storage of this information.

Home Ec I, II, Advanced Foods and Clothing, Child Development, Single Living and Family Living made up this year's Home Economics Department.

Home Economics I and II deals with canning foods, beginning cooking, meat cookery, and they also sew dresses, slacks or shorts. In Advanced Foods the students learn to mix herbs and spices and try some foreign recipes. They also make blazers. The Child Development students learn about children and have a nursery school. The Single Living class teaches students to cook simple things and how to sew a jacket or a backpack. To better understand relationships, the students take Family Living. This class also prepares and holds a wedding. Students learn to manage money in Consumer Economics.

The home ec teachers are Mrs. Lorene Gregory, Miss Donna Wendt and Mrs. Kathy Zeiher.

Vo-Ag raises crops, money

Fund raisers and crop raising are among the projects that the Vocational Agriculture students of Perkins High School are involved in. The Vo-ag students sold sausage and vitality seeds. They went to horse judging and general livestock contests. The class landscaped at Briar and the high school. The major project of Vo-Ag is the farming of ten acres of land near NASA. When harvest time comes, the students will run a vegetable stand.

Art students learn to use various media

Art I through IV is a sequential program designed to help the art student go from a very basic design to developing his own personal style and technique.

The beginning art student learns to handle basic design principles of line color, shape, size and perspective. A variety of media such as tempera paint, chalk, charcoal, clay and watercolor is used. Special projects include: 3-dimensional structures of cardboard and illustrating poems using Calligraphy.

The drawing program shows the students different ways and media to produce drawing from chalk and pencil to newer techniques such as markers.

The Art Department is run by Mrs. Char Schuman and Mrs. Barb Gaydos.

Basic, advanced courses offered in business usiness Law, typing, shorthand and accounting classes can all be found in the Business Department.

Personal Typing is offered for those students who want the basics while Typing I and II are for students who plan to Major in business. Accounting is an introduction to bookkeeping and shorthand and is a must for future secretaries. The Business Law class informs the consumer of protective laws and rights while Business Math will make banking and marketing easier.

Mrs. Sharpe, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Zimmerman are the educators in this department.

Shop classes offer something for everyone

Six classes comprise the Industrial Arts Department. Industrial Arts I and II, Power Mechanics, Advanced Woodworking, Engineering Drawing I and II and Advanced Metal working courses can be found in the industrial arts wing.

Shop I teaches the basics in mechanical drawing, while Industrial Arts II students have metal working, electricity and power mechanics. Students in the Power Mechanics class study automobile components. The Advanced Woodworking students learn to operate all woodworking machines and are taught to construct and select good furniture. Engineering Drawing I and II are designed to introduce and develop several phases of drafting. In Advanced Metalworking, the students design their own projects in metal.

Dean Smith and Bret Huber move their three story model house.

Dennis Cuthbertson and Mike Burger skin a raccoon.

Warren Hodge, Dennis Cuthbertson, Joe Hiss and Paul Cantelli admire the finished product.

Dennis Cuthbertson and Jeff Matter prepare a hide for stuffing.

Doc Stone teaches Taxidermy I and II. His room is an unusual sight around the high school. A large buffalo head stares at the doorway and many strange creatures hang from the ceiling.

In Taxidermy I the student are taught to stuff birds, and in Taxidermy II the students are permitted to stuff anything they want. Some of the projects are brought in by students other than those in the taxidermy classes.

At times the science hall smells like the home ec wing and everyone knows that it is just Doc Stone making his "Roadside Stew". "Roadside Stew" is a combination of just about anything that can be stuffed. The stew is rumored to be a 'connoisseur's delight'.

The Doc has been teaching at Perkins for twenty-five years.

Special services offered to students

Below: Mrs. Margaret Knerr returns the books to the shelves.

Below: Mr. William Miller helps students with special needs.

Along with the people who are visibly running the school are four who sometimes don't get the recognition they deserve. If a student becomes ill, Mrs. Carol Stephens, the school nurse, is available from 7:30 to 10:15. Mr. Miller is the school psychologist. He talks to students with problems and does industrial listings for the placement of students in either the gifted or special education classes. The librarians have a large responsibility in dealing with the 11,000 books in the library. They also monitor daily study halls.

Staffs give service

afeteria and custodial workers work hard to take care of both the lunchroom and the school in general. Max Rhonehouse is the head custodian and has been here for six years, and Jan Russell has been here for four. Both Mr. Rhonehouse and Ms. Russell work during the day and four others come in at night. Mrs. Deno is the food services manager at the high school. The cafeteria serves lunch from 11:21 to 12:55.

Sophomore class officers: Jean Glossa, secretary; Michele Voight, treasurer; Val Barone, vice-president; and Chris Smith, president.

Planning fund raising events for the summer and following school year was the main project of this year's sophomore class. This year the class held a magazine sale in the fall and a candy sale in early spring.

The theme for the Homecoming float was "Crying in the Chapel" and Homecoming attendant, Jenny Rist, was escorted by Eric Alafita.

The future holds more fund raisers to cover the cost of next year's prom and homecoming.

The 1981-82 officers were: Chris Smith, president; Val Barone, vice-president; Jean Glossa, secretary; and Michele Voight, treasurer.

FIRST MATES FIRST MATES FIRST

Being the first class to go through the high school after the new construction is only one of the things the class of 1983 will be remembered for.

The juniors sold first aid kits and ran the concession stand at football and basketball games. These were their main money-making activities.

With the class funds, they sponsored the Junior-Senior Prom. The prom was held this year in the Crystal Room instead of at Cedar Point where it had been traditionally held.

At the end of the year, many juniors bought class tee shirts which they wore on the last day of school.

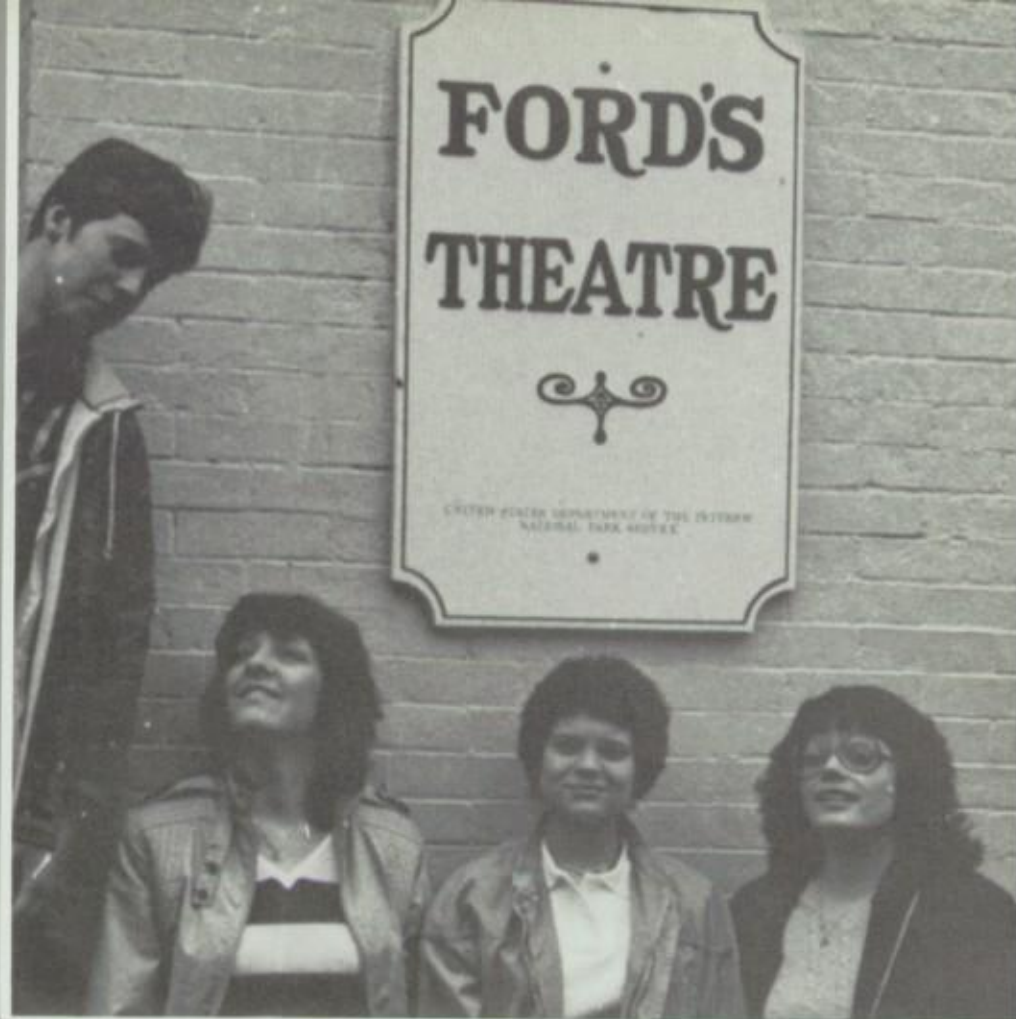

The officers for the junior class were: Dawn Bickley, president; Shelly Ross, vice-president; Kris Knauer, secretary; and Brian Fleming, treasurer.

eniors started their final year in high school with high hopes of a great year and they were not disappointed.

Their first major project was a bake sale to help build money needed for the year ahead. They also ended the year with three bake sales to help finance the senior class trip and the senior all-night party.

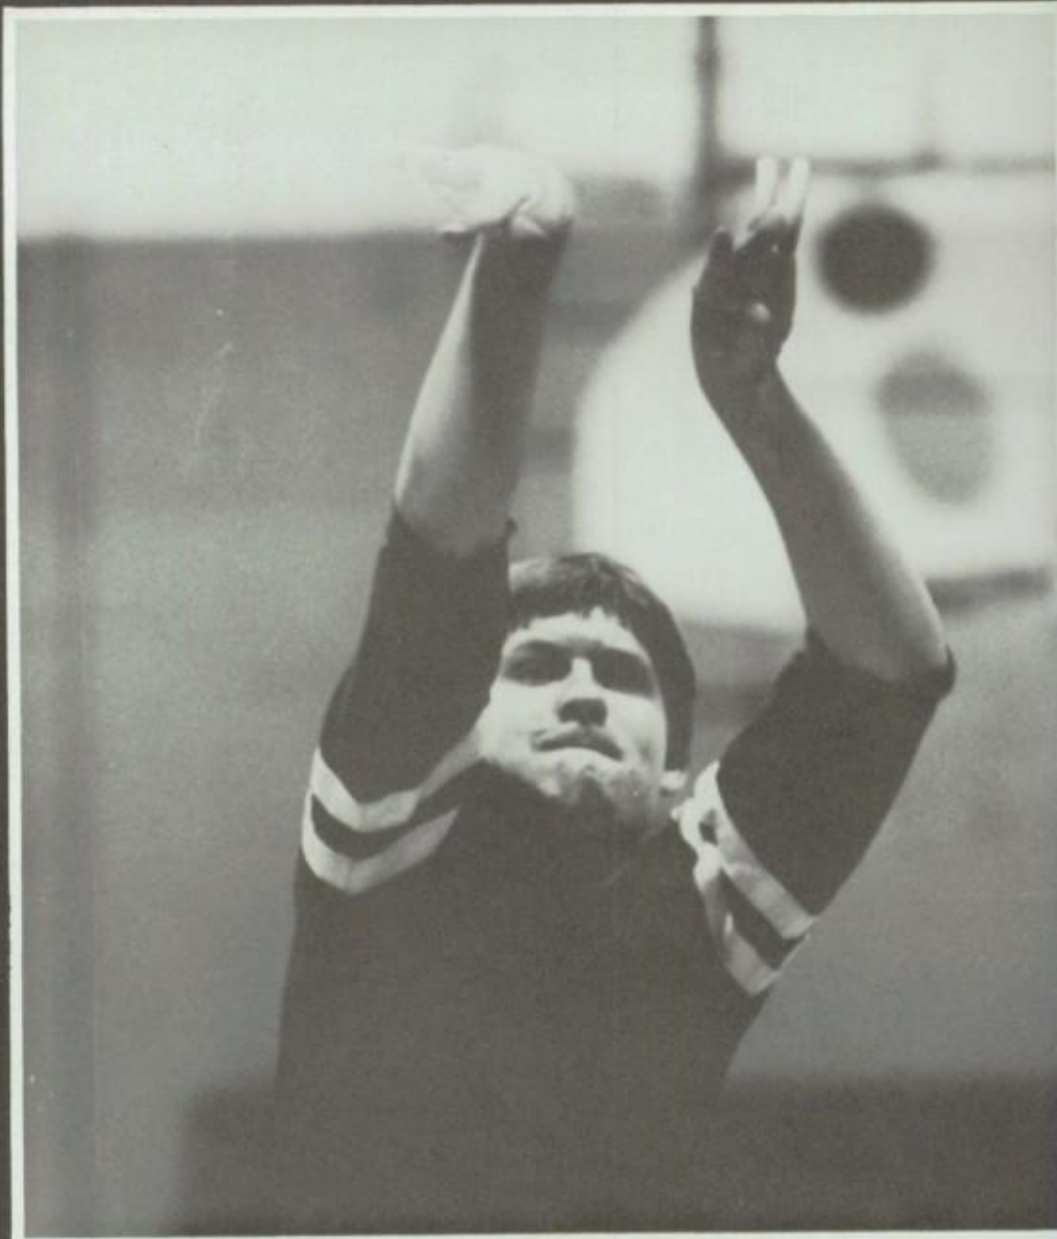

This year the seniors were given the once-in-a-lifetime chance to attend a world's fair. They left on May 8 from the high school and travelled to Knoxville, Tennessee, where they attended the 1982 World's Fair. They returned home on May 11.

The senior all-night party was held in the high school from 8 pm on Friday, May 28, to 6 am on Saturday, May 29. The gym was open all night offering the seniors their choice of pool or ping-pong tables, and for those more active seniors, the basketball or volleyball courts. A disc jockey played songs from 8 pm to 1 am, and there was open pool from 1 to 3 am. Food was served all night with breakfast starting at 5 am for those seniors who had survived the night.

Seniors 'Share the Night Together'

Junior-Senior Prom "Sharing the Night Together" included two changes from the traditional Prom.

This year, instead of the dance being held at the Cedar Point Ballroom, the Prom was held in the Crystal Room in the Sandusky Plaza. The other change was the addition of a buffet style dinner. The meal included lasagna, roast beef, and chicken. Cherries Jubilee was served for dessert.

The Prom was held on Saturday, May 15, and lasted from 7-11 with dinner being served from 7-8 and music being featured from 8-11. The band Artworx, which features a female vocalist, played various popular rock songs from such groups as Michael Stanley, The Pretenders and Tom Petty, and also played a few slow ones.

Couples entered the dance through a flowered trellis doorway and were announced by Krista Ross and Ricky Roll. This year many juniors and seniors chose to be escorted by PHS alumni or by upperclassmen from other area schools.

The decorations for the dance included the senior class colors of sky blue, aqua blue and navy blue.

ain threatened to force graduation ceremony inside, but it held off long enough to have 157 seniors graduate in an outside ceremony. The ceremony was held in the Perkins High Stadium on June 6, 1982, at 3 pm.

The ceremony began with Rev. Paul Stengel giving the invocation. Then, Nancy Bing, President of the class of 1982, announced the platform guests and also addressed the class one last time. She spoke to the class about the class motto and wished the class good luck in the future endeavors. After the band and choir performed, scholarships were presented to various members of the graduating class with the total amount being over $7000. Dean Smith, the top ten representative, then addressed the class and presented them with the challenge of the future. Mr. Shoff, principal of the high school, then presented the class to Dr. James Printy, President of the Board of Education, who then handed out the diplomas. The ceremony ended with Rev. Paul Stengel giving the benediction.

The March Away

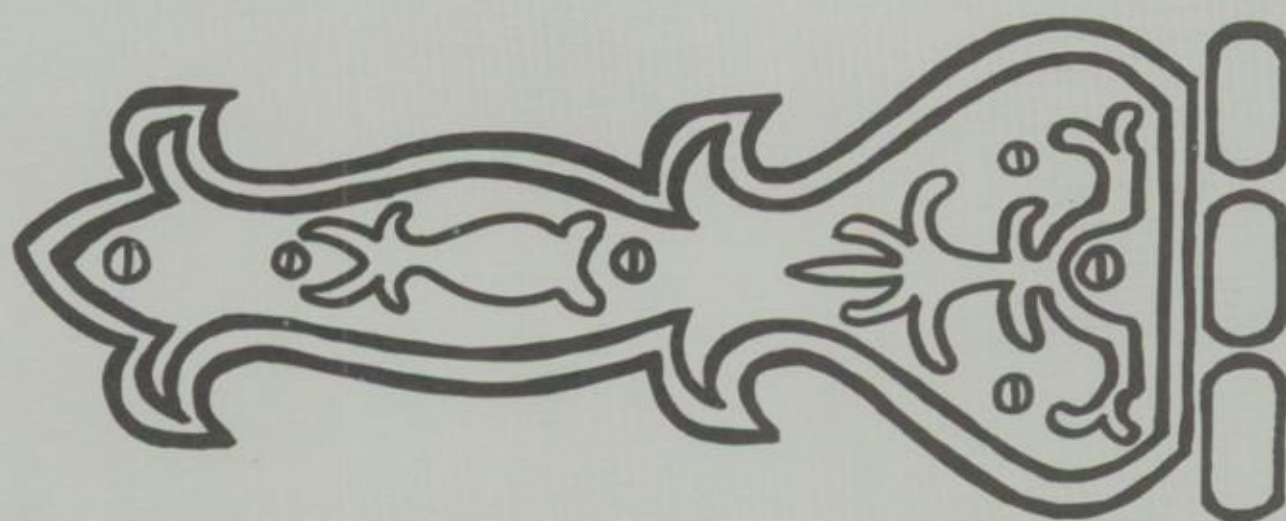

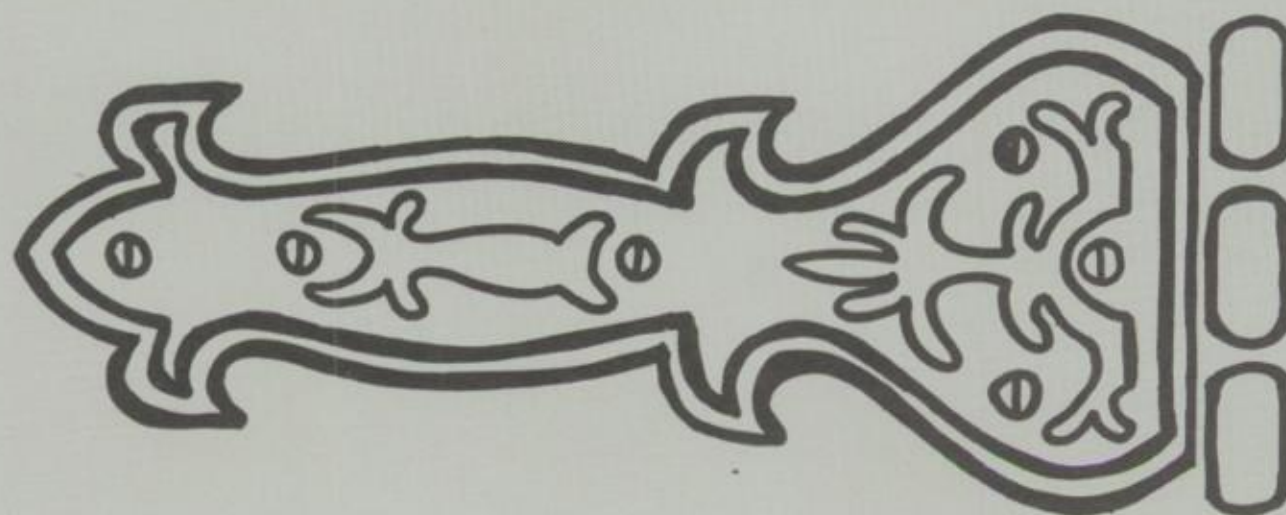

One voyage has ended.
Safe now, the Pirate ship rests at dock,
treasures gleaming from the hold and deck.
Flowing white and black ripple in the sunlight.
Smiling eyes
light faces frozen in the moment
Looking for the treasure past the lowering sun.
Footsteps down the gangplank
one last time
march to music
which echoes now across the green.

They march past the blurred faces away
away
Toward an unseen treasure,
Mesmerized by the march away,
Clutching a passport
out of the now
to what?
Lines of white and black marching,
marching,
marching on to another voyage.

Pirate gridgers 'rise up' to win climactic games

Coach Jim Stauffer's 48 member varsity squad endured a climactic season with a 4-6 overall record.

The team started off the season with a shutout of Jonathon Alder. After slipping to a couple of non-conference foes, the Pirates rebounded with a homecoming victory over St. Joe and a shutout of archrival St. Mary's.

The team then dropped hard fought battles to the conference's top three teams before ending the season with a home crowd victory over Port Clinton.

Co-captains Jim Dishman and John Fox were named most valuable lineman and hitter respectively while also being named to the conference first team. Gary Joiner was named most valuable back.

While most players got the chance to exhibit their skills in varsity action, the major portion of their playing time came in Monday afternoon reserve contests.

Coaches Jim Patton and Bob McIntyre deemed the season a success with many of their first team players advancing to see varsity action on Friday evening.

"When a varsity starter was injured, one of our players was called on to step in, we feel they did the job," said Coach Patton.

Freshmen always give 100%

At the annual football banquet, freshman coach Luginbill praised his players for always giving 100 percent and being highly coachable.

"Our record doesn't tell how hard these boys worked to achieve the goals they set at the outset of the season," he said.

The freshmen were headed by a tough defense, but the offensive attack struggled at times as evidenced by the fact that in every game they scored, a victory was recorded.

Golfers respond to tournament play with total team effort

Coach Frank Laudonia's golf squad, which consisted of only two returning lettermen, finished the season with a 2-12 conference record. The team was able to overcome its inexperience in tournament play as it placed third in the Keystone Invite, fifth in the Norwalk Invite and fourth in the sectional tournament.

"We seem to play our best golf during tournaments," Coach Laudonia remarked, "and the team ended the season on a positive note with a good showing at the sectionals."

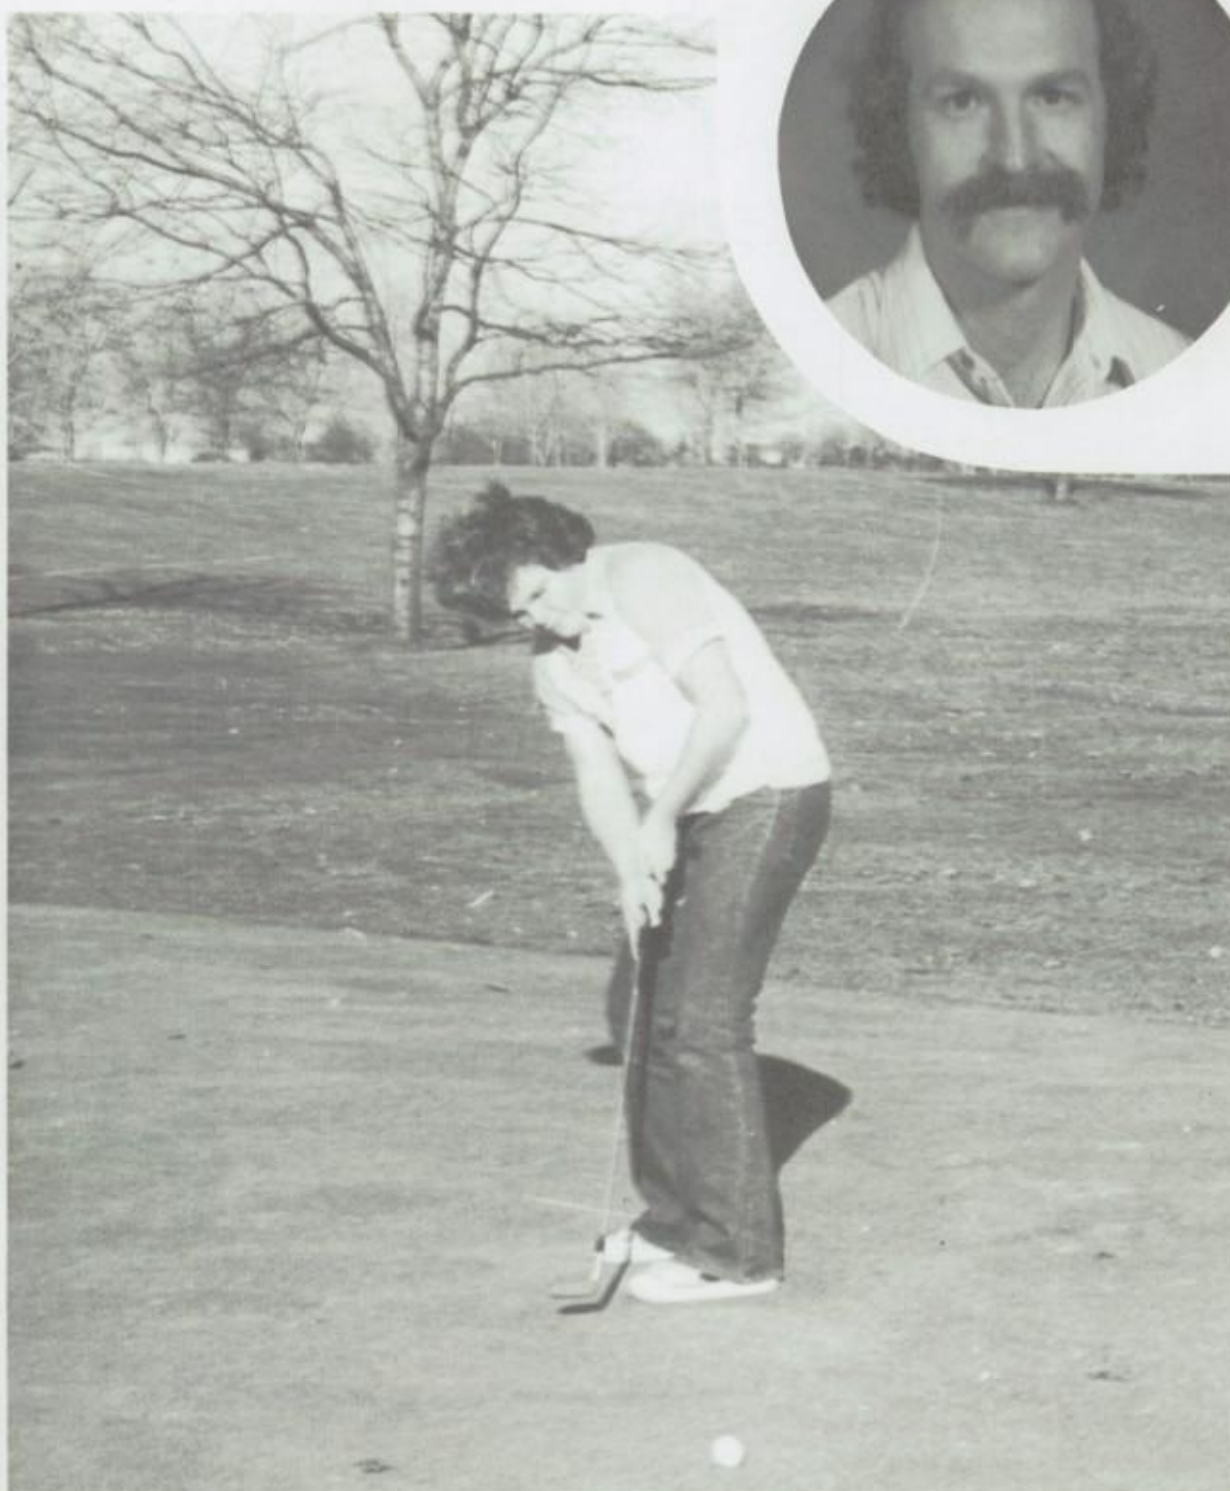

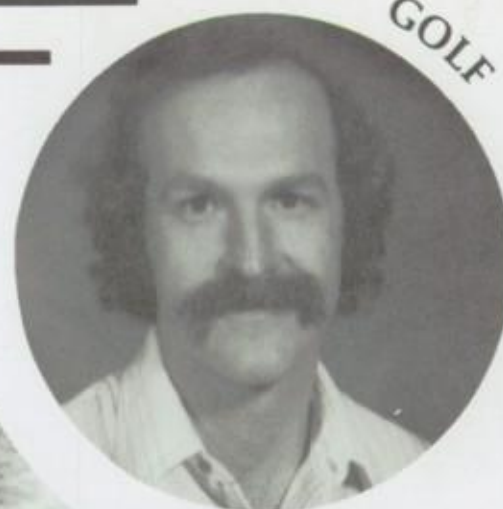

The Pirates were led by captain Ray Whitacre who, besides being voted MVP, was awarded medalist honors in the Keystone Invite and was named to the All SBC second team. Junior Kevin Grathwol received the MIP award.

Young, but talented harriers outdistance opposition on way to state

Above: Pirate harriers Andy Smith, Scott Kearney and Tim Marzec find themselves running in a crowd at the start of the Galion Invite.

For the first time as a team, the Pirate pack ran in state competition placing fifteenth, led by Brian Martin who placed sixth.

In addition to being fifteenth in the state, the team was fourth in the district and won sectionals and the Norwalk Invitational. They were runners-up in the Galion and Ontario Invitionals and second in SBC.

They finished the season with a 10-1 dual meet record led by senior co-captains Scott McCune and Tim Marzec.

The team chose Brian Martin as MVP, and he was honored as an All-Ohioan at state. Scott Kearney, sophomore, was chosen MIP.

Future bright for young women harriers with SBC title and state qualifiers

The girls' cross country team finished the season by placing sixth in the state, led by Penny McClusky who finished seventh overall just missing All-Ohio by one place.

The team's dual meet record was 10-0 with impressive wins in the Norwalk and Ontario Invites and a runner-up spot in the Old Fort Invite.

Assistant coach Gail Finn's squad captured the SBC title, were A-AA sectional runners-up, were fourth in the A-AA Northwest district and finished with an impressive run in Columbus.

Seniors Cathy Hoelzer and Patty Stengel were the team co-captains.

Penny McClusky and Karen Stewart were MVP and MIP award winners respectively.

Not losing heart, the team rallied back to defeat Fremont St. Joe and in a thrilling overtime match defeated archrival Sandusky.

Coach Weaver explained, "This season we had experience and skill, but our lack of consistency kept us from winning several games. Hopefully, we will do better next year."

The team was led by co-captains, Nancy Bing and Marcy Speer.

Stephanie Smith and Connie Kaman received the MVP and MIP awards respectively.

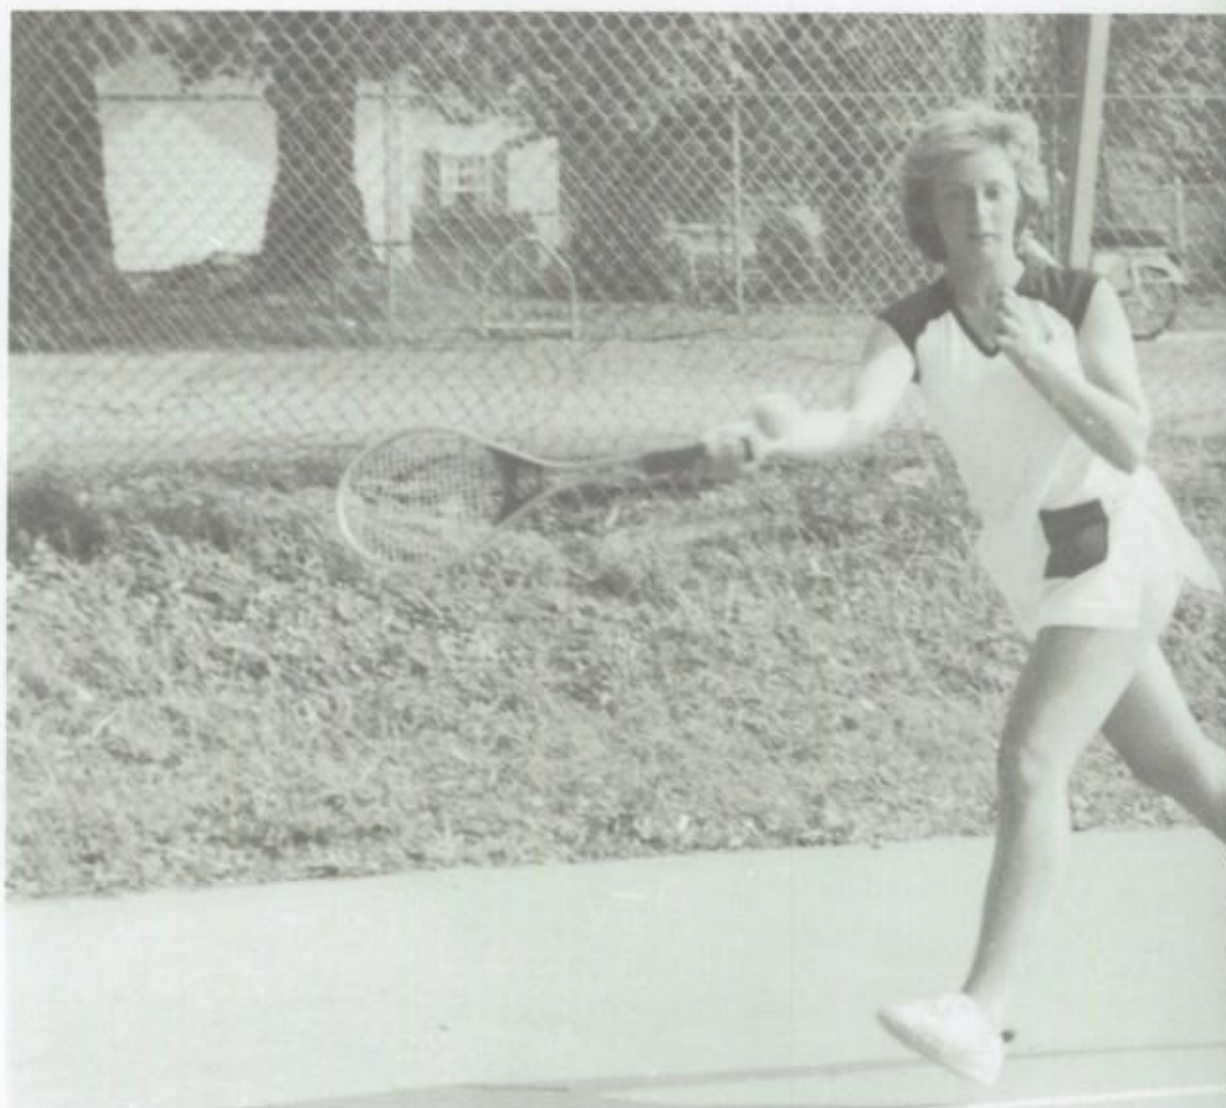

Girls fall short in conference - Moore, first girl to state

The girls' tennis team ended the season with a record of 10-6 overall and 8-2 in the SBC. MVP Terri Moore not only lead the team to a successful season, but also went on to become sectional and district champion and qualify for the state tournament.

Senior captain Lisa Lavine also advanced through sectional and district competition. Junior Amy Zeiher received the MIP award.

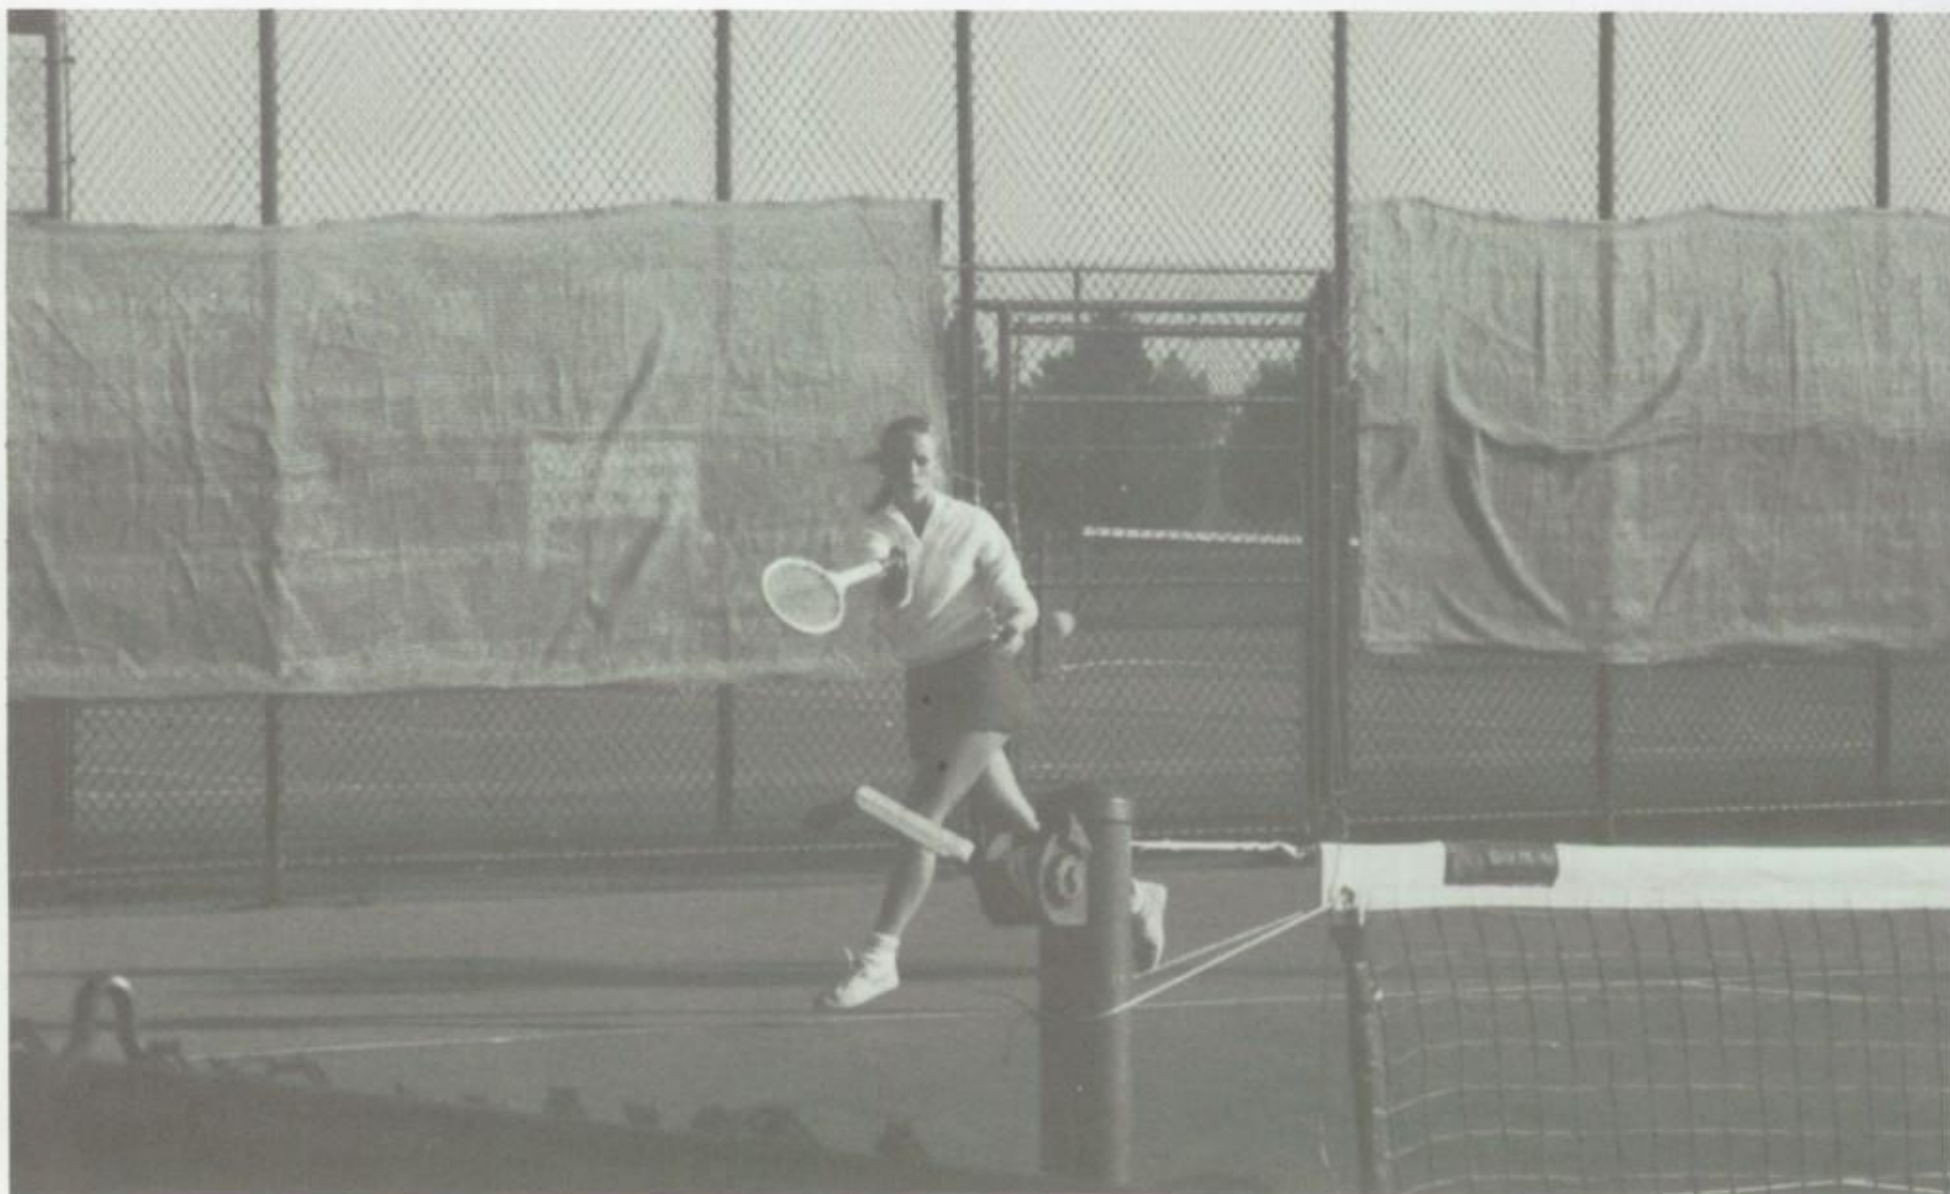

Coach Joe Taylor stated, "I feel this season we accomplished some of our goals and fell just a little short on some of our others."

His goals for next year are to try for the conference title, to improve the team's record, and to again qualify someone for state competition.

Disappointing but exciting season for varsity Pirate cagers

Above: Mark Speer out jumps Jim Jenkins of Huron to win the top in the all important SBC matchup between the Pirates and the Tigers.

Coach John Schlessman expressed a feeling of disappointment about the outcome of the 81-82 basketball season, but from a fans' standpoint, the 12-9 season was an exciting and welcome trip back to a winning team. Coach Schlessman explained, "We wanted to win the SBC and bring home a sectional crown but we let it slip through our fingers."

Remembering the troubles the Pirates ran into the last two years with a lack of height, sophomore Mark Speer was promoted to the varsity and added a lethal inside attack with his tremendous leaping ability. The Pirate Co-MVP's Tim Marzec and Benji Garcia provided the team with a guard combination that few could stop. MIP Brian Printy, only a junior, was a welcome surprise for Coach Schlessman as he really came on in the middle of the season and gave the Pirates an added rebounding advantage.

JV's set records in preview of future years

"I wish we could have that game with Elyria back again. 19-1 is very good but an undefeated season is something doubly impressive." This is what Coach Chris Green remarked about his outstanding 81-82 season. The team lacked the tremendous superstar as the lineup changed several times during the season but with their explosive offense, all twelve players were able to get into almost every game. Coach Green pointed to the tremendous teamwork and depth for their success, and he feels that Perkins basketball fans are going to have something to look forward to in the coming years.

Frosh fare well in balanced league

The freshman cagers ran into some tough competition in the conference during the 81-82 campaign but were able to produce a winning record despite their lack of numbers. By the year's end, the team consisted of only ten players and they ran into problems just conducting a practice. Alumni players and team members' brothers contributed to bring the total to ten for every practice. The Pirates' 10-8 record did not show how well they really did and how vastly improved each player was. The SBC was a rugged conference this year as Margaretta, Huron and St. Mary's all finished with fine records.

Pirate girls improve from early season struggle

When a team begins a season with an 0-8 start, many players would give up and try to look forward to something else, but this was not the case with the women cagers. Hard work and a will to win paid off in the 9th game of the year when the Pirates defeated the St. Joe Streaks. From then on the girls proved to be a tough opponent for the top teams in the SBC. The girls finished with a 5-16 overall record and finished 5-9 in the conference.

Coach Jim Hauser believes the team's improvement was due to the three fine seniors on this year's squad and the leadership they provided for the younger girls. MVP Kathy Manion was the team's leading scorer and she was also named second team all conference. Sophomore Jill Grathwol was named MIP.

Grapplers find weakness in numbers

Above: Senior captain John Fox brings his opponent to the mat and records a pin in his last dual meet appearance as a member of the Perkins varsity wrestling squad.

This year's varsity wrestling squad experienced a problem with filling all the weight classes. At each match, there are thirteen weight classes to fill and the Pirates found it tough to cover the lower two and the heavyweight classes, due to injuries and a limited number of wrestlers. Because of this the Pirates were forced to forfeit these matches and found themselves behind early. The squad's strength was in the middle weights where captains John Fox and Scott Poggiali, SBC champion and 2nd in the sectional respectively, along with junior Keith Porter, SBC champion, and DeMorris McDonald, 4th in the sectional, led the team to a fifth place conference finish and a third place finish in the Edison and Galion Invitationals. Cross-town rival Sandusky proved to be the Pirates' biggest obstacle to winning the NWOAC for the eleventh consecutive year. Pirate hardballers fall into slump

The Pirate baseball team found out the hard way just what a slump can do to championship chances. The team started off in a flurry and was atop the SBC after six games, but they fell on hard luck as they hit a midseason slump and dropped their next four games. The Pirates had the chance to play the spoiler in the final game of the year and keep St. Mary's from a share of the title, but a desperate comeback attempt was foiled when the Panthers scored in the bottom of the seventh inning to win. Gary Joiner, team MVP and a first team conference selection, led the team in hitting with a .370 average. Todd Michel was named MIP and Scott Streiffert received the George Freytag Award.

Tennis team stays near top

This year's boys' tennis team failed in their bid to reclaim the SBC championship, but they never lost their competitiveness as they finished with a fine 9-3 conference record, right behind champion Huron. The team consisted of only one senior this year in Pete Keleher who was the team captain along with Doug Linden. The future looks bright for the Pirate netters though as eight lettermen will be returning to guide the team back to the top spot. The team's MVP, Doug Linden and MIP, Linus Bruno are among the returnees for next year. Linden, who was a state champion in doubles along with Ben Raschke in '81, advanced to districts in boys singles this year and hopes to return to state next year as a senior.

Record books to be rewritten

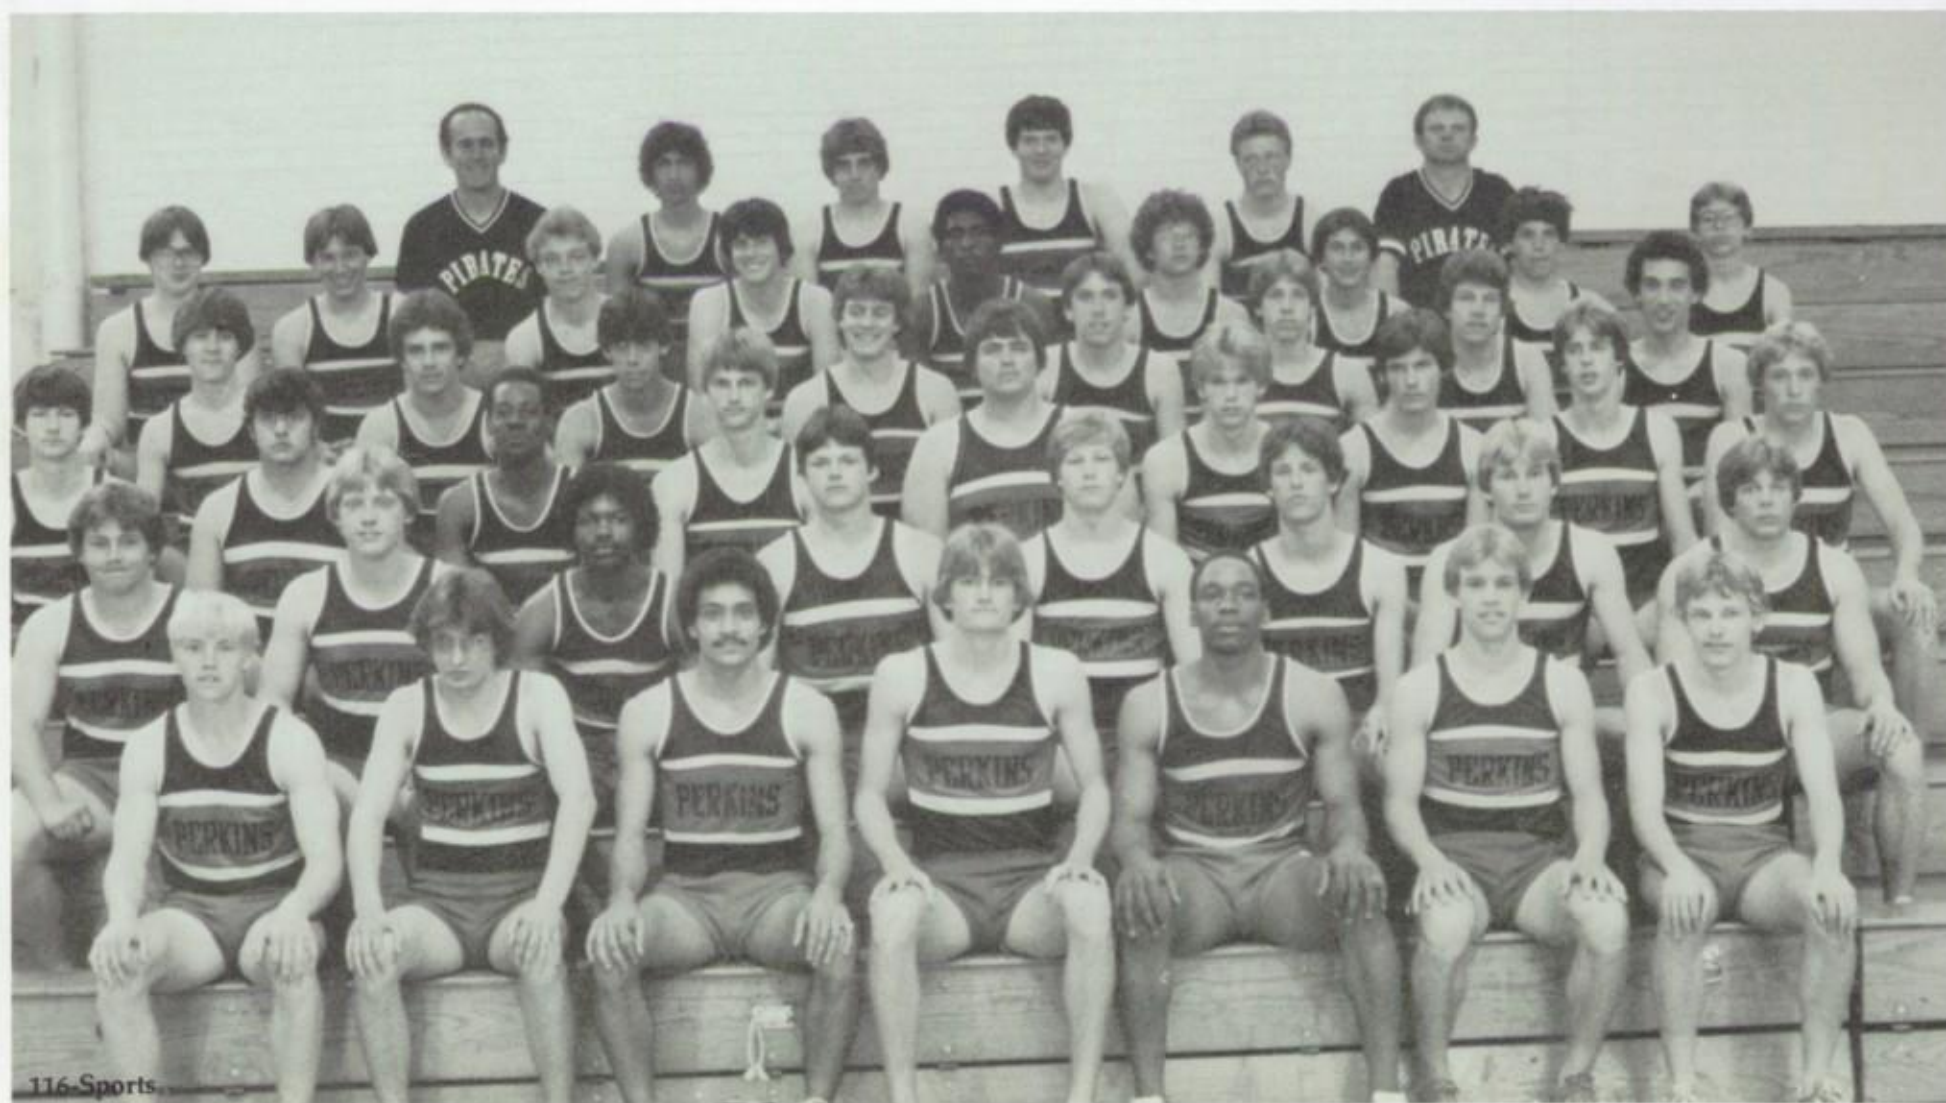

The 1982 boys' track team almost rewrote the entire school record books this year as eleven records were equaled or bettered during the season. All these record breaking performances accounted for the team's unblemished 11-0 dual meet record which kept their string of 28 consecutive dual meet victories in tact. First place finishes by the team included the Huron Inv., Whitmer Inv., Margareta Inv., Bellevue Inv., Pirate Relays and AA District Champs.

The team was also well represented in the state this year as senior Benji Garcia qualified for four events and climaxed it with a 3rd place finish in the 300 meter low hurdles. The 1600 meter relay team of Scott McCune, Benji Garcia, Pete Kearney and Mike Coleman also turned in a fine performance with a 5th place finish.

Girls are champions again

The girls' track team had the task of winning the SBC in order to secure the all-sports trophy for the second year in a row, and they were equal to the challenge. The girls won the title running away, outdistancing runnerup Clyde by 52 points. The girls had a fine dual meet record at 8-2 with the only losses coming at the hands of Bellevue and Sandusky. Six records were established by members of this year's team and they also captured first in the Huron Inv., Margareta Inv. and Pirate Relays along with the SBC title. The team's 3200 meter relay team consisting of Karen Stewart, Laura Kearney, Carol Kearney and Penny McClusky traveled to state where they garnered a fifth place finish. The team named Laura Kearney as their MVP and Marcy Speer was named MIP.

Cheerleaders spread spirit by initiating involvement

Who is filled with spirit, attends every varsity football and basketball game and works as hard as the athletes involved? Why, the cheerleaders of course. During the course of the football and basketball seasons, the cheerleaders work hard at what they do best; spreading spirit. In between practicing and making cheers, the girls are busy painting signs and hoops, making spirit boxes and serving breakfasts to all the players, and you'll be sure to see them on Friday or Saturday nights cheering the Pirates to a victory.

The spring and summer months are the girls' training months. With clinics and tryouts coming each spring, the girls must stay in shape. The most talented and spirited girls will make the squad and then the work begins. The summer is filled with numerous practices and cheerleading camp to prepare the girls with the proper techniques. The girls must assemble what they have learned into exciting routines which enthrall the crowd and spark the team. The weekend sports would just not be the same without the hardworking Perkins cheerleaders.

Intramurals give athletes a choice

The intramural program at Perkins offers athletes a chance to participate in different sports without the long hours of practice between games. The program offers interschool competition in basketball, bowling and the newly formed volleyball league for athletes not competing in interscholastic sports or for those who are interested in a variety of different athletic activities. Basketball and volleyball were both held on Monday nights but were conducted in the winter and spring months respectively. Bowling, which was held on Wednesday afternoons following school, took place at Bonnie Lanes in Sandusky and involved about twenty students. The only champion crowned was in basketball where the senior dominated team "Rainbow" took top honors.

Managers, trainers keep sports running smoothly

Without the hard work of the managers, mat maids and trainers at PHS, the sports program would suffer confusion from the beginning. The managers are responsible for keeping track of the equipment and making sure the coach has what he needs when he needs it. In fact, the managers probably work harder and longer than the players themselves because they've always got to be ready to do the unexpected. What the managers do in football and basketball, the mat maids perform for the wrestling team. They're responsible for getting out the mats and getting them ready for home matches and practices. They also keep the wrestlers supplied with water throughout the grueling matches. Sports are never complete without injuries and that's where the trainers come in. They are responsible for taping and any minor treatments which the athletes require before all practices and games. The student trainers are trained by Mr. Tom Kinsel, the high school's head trainer.

Save Money

While you get a good education

At Firelands College, you'll receive excellent instruction and you won't have to spend big bucks to live in a dorm. Most of our classes are small, so you'll get to know your teacher and classmates.

Maybe you remember Sheldon Benkey and Teena Deal. They chose Firelands and they're glad they did.

Firelands is for you! Call us at 433-5560. We can help make your future great!

Open Daily

ave you noticed Ray Whitacre, business manager, and Karen Brown, student life co-editor, appearing in this Quadrant many times?

If you thought they didn't belong in many of the pictures, you are right.

Count the number of times Karen and Ray appear correctly and incorrectly in the pictures. Submit your entry in a sealed envelope to the yearbook advisor's school mailbox.

A drawing for a free 1982-83 yearbook will be held in October.

Quadrant staff members are not eligible for the drawing.

PERSONALS

Lisa,

What can I say to the person who has shared all of my high school memories? Thanks for being there all those times and hopefully there will be more shared times in the future.

LYLAS
Tina!

This is to all my good friends just to say thanks for making my years at PHS the best ever. We has had some wild times I will never forget any of you. Let's always keep in touch.

Love you all!
Sue

Marcy McPeck

You're the best friend a person could have. Always remember the great times we've had. Always keep in touch!

Love ya,
Sandy

Laura,

It is impossible to express in words words how happy you have made me. You are a very special person. You may not be very outspoken, but your kindness says a thousand words.

Matt

Sunshine,

To the most special person in my life. Thanks for making my senior year complete. Now just wait and you can make my life complete.

I love you very much
Gary

I leave my sports ability to Dave Reiber. (Oh, boy, what a mistake!) To Mike Coleman I leave all of my good grades. To Coach Schlessman I leave all of my basketball knowledge. (He'll need it. Ha Ha) Good luck coach. And to all those pretty ladies, A KISS. And to Traci Reiber, never lose sight of your dream.

Benji

John Fox,

Thanks for keeping me out of trouble! Good luck and keep in touch.

Love always,
Kay

Cindy E.

To a great sister and friend. I just want to say good luck in the future to you and Tim M.

Love,
Your sister
Debbie

Kim,

Thanks for being so special. What a friend!

Monica

Joe Sammarco

Thanks for the good times. Let's try to forget the bad. Keep in touch.

Love always,
Missy

To the class of '83!

All I can say if that we've got a super class! The students of our class have always shown exceptional talent, skill, and academic achievement. Thank you for making me proud to be your class president.

Dawn Bickley

Paul,

Love is sharing,
Love is caring,
Love is kind,
And somehow when I think of love,
It's you I have in mind!

Yours forever,
Amy

Frodo:

Still round the corner there may wait
A new road or a secret gate,
And through we pass them by today,
Tomorrow we may come this way
And take the hidden paths that run
Towards the moon or to the sun.
Sam.

Dear Pam and Shari,

I'm glad we got to be food friends this year. Thanks for being my best friends. I hope our friendship never dies.

Love,
Rikki

Doug,

Wherever you go or whatever you do, remember I will always be thinking about you! Please keep in touch. Best wishes to you always!

Love,
Amy

Mike Hermes,

I'm really gonna miss ya after graduation. Thanks for two years of great memories. They'll never be forgotten. Keep in touch and stay out of trouble.

Love ya always,
Nun

Linus,

Thanks so much for all the times that you've shown me how much you care. Your understanding means so much! Our times together have been the best

With love,
Amy

Annette,

I wish everyone in the world could have a friend as honest and understanding as you are. I'll never forget you. Thanks for everything!

Love,
Amy

Animal,

With all that we've been through
With all that we've shared
Please remember that I love you
And I'll always care . . .

Sunshine

Carol and Linda,

Thanks for being there when I needed to talk, especially when it was about Dean. Carol, good luck at Providence. Linda, good luck next year. Both take care and always keep in touch.

Friends forever,
Tina

s our voyage comes to an end, I would like to pause for a moment to reflect on the year's accomplishments. The staff started out the year getting sponsors to advertise in the book. With the effort of everyone, the staff was able to reach the necessary goal.

Jobs for the production of the book were then assigned. It was then the staff's responsibility to get the sections completed. This year's staff worked well together. Not only was everyone very dependable, but they were also more than happy to help other staff members write copy or think up a caption.

I would like to thank each and every member of this year's staff. Without their time and effort we would never have completed this book.

I appreciate the time the photographers spent both in and out of class covering school activities. A special thanks should go to Mr. Dave Pataky, our Josten's representative, who helped with the planning and designing of this book; Mr. Rick Abbott from Gainsborough's for some wonderful photographs; to Jennifer Cuthbertson for taking her own time to draw up the artwork for this book; and to the Sandusky Register and all others for their contributions of pictures.

I'd like to thank Linda Kay Davis, the co-editor, for all her help, and give special recognition to Mrs. Souter, our advisor. Mrs. Souter spent much of her own time, typing up layouts over vacation in order to meet a deadline, developing needed pictures, and planning and organizing the book. We would have been lost without her guidance.

As the 1982 voyage of the Quadrant comes to an end, the staff hopes that through this book you will be able to reflect on the treasured moments of the year. We wish you the best of luck on your voyage through the future.

Kelly-
To a really sweet girl that I finally got to know a little better this year. Good luck in everything you do!
Take care!
Love,
Stephanie

P.S. Make this year the Best.

Kelly-
Hey! What's up?
I'm glad we finally got our friends together & are good about this year. There's a lot of crazy times to remember, so remember them!

Bye Love you too!

So a crazy and funny girl. Last year in the dark room was great. I'll never forget you, Joe, or Kay and the water fights. You guys made the year.
Please remember me.

P.S. Remember the little men.

Dear Kelly, Gawa,

We've had some really good times together. In Spanish, in Driver's Ed (cone head) Journalism etc. I hope you remember me and the craziness we've shared. Don't be embarrassed that you love Jimmy Gawa.

RMF!! Take care

Keep in touch! Love always-
